THE DEAD NUMBER 500

Great Loss of Life In the Storm In Porto Rico.

ABOUT 300 DROWNED AT PONCE.

Claimed That the Weather Bureau Failed to Warn That Place-Root Issued an Appeal For Aid-Gen. Davis Sent Further News of Storm's Ravages.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.-A report has been received at the war department from an officer at San Juan, Porto Rico, estimating that the number of killed in the hurricane amounts to 500. The same officer says a very serious condition of affairs exists at Ponce.

Ponce, Porto Rico, Aug. 12.—During the hurricane Ponce was flooded at midnight and at least 300 persons were drowned. Two hundred bodies, mostly those of people and including many children, have been recovered.

All the buildings are damaged and hundreds have been destroyed. The soldiers and firemen worked all night, heroically saving lives.

There is no drinking water, gas, ice or electric light.

The commissary stores at Playa were destroyed, the city is short of food and the army officers are distributing rations.

Fifteen vessels in the harbor were driven ashore.

The weather bureau predicted the storm, but it is claimed Ponce was not warned.

A mob of 1,000 threatened the alcade, Porrata Doria, but they were dispersed by the Fifth cavalry. The alcade has been deposed on account of negligence. Major Myers of the Eleventh infantry is acting as alcade in response to popular demand.

The sum of $5,000 will be needed to clean the streets. The sanitary condition is serious and assistance is needed. All the crops are totally ruined, the wires are all down and little news is obtainable from the interior. Abonita, including the barracks, has been destroyed; but no lives were lost

Juan Diaz has been devastated. Fortysix lives were lost there.

Arrayoa, Salinas and San Isabel are reported to have been totally demolished. The railroad between Ponce and Yauco has been destroyed and the military road is impassable. The river is flowing over the road for two miles. Mayaguez escaped serious injury.

Bananas are the sole food here.

The peons have gone to San Juan and its vicinity, which are comparatively uninjured.

Washington, Aug. 12.—The war department took prompt measures for the relief of the hurricane sufferers in Porto Rico. When the press dispatches and General Davis' advices made known the extent of the disaster steps were immediately taken to send supplies, and the transport McPherson was ordered put in readiness to sail from New York on Monday next. She will carry rations and other necessaries. Secretary of War Root sent the following appeal to the mayors of all cities of more than 150,000 population:

SIR-The governor general of Porto Rico confirms the report that upon the 8th inst. a hurricane swept over the island, entirely demolishing many of the towns, destroying many lives, and reducing so far as he can estimate not less than 100,000 inhabitants to the condition of absolute destitution, without homes or food. Unless immediate and effective relief is given, these unfortunate people will perish of famine.

Under these conditions, the president deems that an appeal should be made to the hu manity of the American people. It is an appeal to their patriotism also, for the inhabit ants of Porto Rico have freely and gladly sub mitted themselves to the guardianship of the United States and have voluntarily surrendered the protection of Spain, to which they were formerly entitled, confidently relying upon more generous and benificent treatment at our hands. The highest consideration of honor and good faith unite with the promptings of humanity to require from the United State a generous response to the demand of Porto Rican distress.

This department has directed the immediate distribution of rations to the sufferers by the army in Porto Rico, so far as it is within the power of the executive, but in the absence of any appropriation we must rely largely upon private contributions.

I beg that you will call upon the publicspirited and humane people of your city to take active and immediate measures in this exigency.

The government transport McPherson will be sent directly from the port of New York to Porto Rico on Monday, the 14th inst., to carry all supplies of food which can be obtained. Further transports will be sent at future dates, of which public notice will be given.

Any committee charged with the raising of funds will receive full information and advice upon communicating with this depart-Very respectfully,

ELIHU ROOT, Secretary of War.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—The war department received a cablegram from General Davis, giving fuller details of the damage done in Porto Rico by the at about $150,000. hurricane. General Davis said a famine was impending and asked authority to issue rations to the destitute. The Atlantic City, of heart failure. message said:

Later reports show that the hurricane was far more severe in interior and southern part of island than here. Data for estimate of number of Porto Ricans who have lost everything is deficient, but I am forced to believe the number on the Islanu cannot Tall Delow 100,000 souls, and a famine is impending. I ask that 2,500,000 pounds of rice and beans, equal quantities of each, be immediately shipped on transports to Ponce. Some here. Urgent ap peals to all post commanders for food for the destitute. Am I authorized to relieve distress by food issues? Rice and beans only desired. There have been many deaths of natives by falling walls. So far only one soldier reported dangerously injured. Several towns reported entirely demolished. As yet have report-from only four ports. Complete destruction of all barracks at two, and at two others one company of each had barracks destroyed Troops are in canvas. No reports yet from the largest ports, Ponce and Mayaguez, but they were in the vortex of the storm. At least, half of the people in Porto Rico subsist entirely on fruit and vegetables, and storm has entirely destroyed this source of supply.

BARNETT'S DECLARATION.

The Letter Refusing the Offer of the Colonelcy Received by Governor Stone.

HARRISBURG, Aug. 12. — Governor Stone received a letter from Lieutenant Colonel James E. Barnett declining to accept a commission as colonel of the Tenth Pennsylvania regiment. Colonel Barnett requests that no appintment be made and that the colonelcy be allowed to stand vacant in honor of Colonel Hawkins' memory. The governor has no desire to do anything contrary to the wishes of the officers and men, and at their suggestion he will make no appointment. When the regiment reached San Francisco on its return from the Philippines for the muster out Governor Stone telegraphed Colonel Barnett offering to appoint him Colonel Hawkins' successor.

Barnets says in reply that he would be glad to hold a commission as colonel of the regiment and did have that ambition, "but under the circumstances," he adds, 'it seems to me, those officers who would benefit by my promotion, and to all the officers and men in this command, that the least we can do is to allow the name of Alexander L. Hawkins to be associated with the regiment during its entire time of United States service, the crowning period of its achievements, as its sole and only colonel.

BARNETT AND A MISS QUAY.

Rumor That the Lieutenant Colonel Is to Wed Soon.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—Before the Spanish-American war began it was understood at Washington, Pa., Lieutenant Colonel Barnett's home, and also in this city, that the colonel's frequent visits to Beaver and the national capital to one of Quay's daughters.

The order which sent the Tenth regiment to fight in the Philippines interfered with Barnett's love affair. It is now said his wedding will take place this fall. None of Mr. Quay's family is in Washington, and, therefore, no authoritative announcement can be obtained here.

Tenth Men Examined.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 12.—Physical examinations are on in the Tenth, and they will continue until the muster out. The condition of the men generally is found to be excellent, although there are a few cases of chronic stomach trouble, for which the unfortunates expect to receive pensions. The idea of forming football teams to play for the monument fund has resulted in the choice of players, who will meet Tuesday and form teams.

Laird Will Decline.

GREENSBURG, Pa., Aug. 12.—First Lieutenant R. D. Laird, who was recently appointed first lieutenant in the new Twenty-eighth regiment, will not accept the honor. The young soldier says he has had enough war for the present.

WASHINGTON, Pa., Aug. 12.—Colonel Hawkins' body is in the Montgomery vault, where it will remain under guard until the funeral. Chaplain Hunter left for San Francisco.

REBELS SHORT OF AMMUNITION.

Calulet, Santa Rita, Bacolor and Guagua Occupied by Americans-Rebels Set Fire to Angeles and Fled-Tore Up Some of the Railroad Track.

MANILA, Aug. 12, 10:40 a. m.-Advices received from Calulet under date of Aug. 11, report that General Mac-Arthur took the Ninth regiment, a battalion of the Twenty-second and a detachment of the First artillery from Calulet to Santa Rita, near Bacolor, on Friday morning. The entrance of the troops into the town was not opposed, the insurgents fleeing as the Americans approached.

The troops had a hard march of ten miles, in some places being obliged to wade waist deep in water. Many were exhausted. The troops spent the night at Santa Rita and will proceed today.

Lieutenant Hazard of General Wheaton's staff, with five scouts from the Iowa regiment, marched up the railroad into Angeles.

A small force of rebels attacked the scouts outside the town and Lieutenant Hazard sent for reinforcements. General Wheaton's orders, however, were that the Americans should not occupy Angeles; and, a force of 600 or 700 rebels appearing, Lieutenant Hazard retired.

Manila, Aug. 12. - Reconnoitering by small parties continued. Unavailing attempts were made to get in contact with the enemy. The American troops occupy Calulet, Santa Rita, Bacolor and Guagua. No further engagements have taken place. The rains have recommenced. The wounded are being brought into Manila.

The United States transport Para, from San Francisco, via Honolulu, has arrived here.

Washington, Aug. 12.—General Otis cabled the war department as follows: MANILA, Aug. 11.

Adjutant General, Washington:

MacArthur has taken possession of Santa Rita; reconnoitered Berac, Angeles and other points. Insurgents driven were not entirely political missions, a north. One casualty yesterday, none well defined and widespread rumor today. Condition roads makes move-having it that he had become engaged ments troops difficult, but considered necessary to open up this section of country, as it virtually gives control of province of Bataan and relieves innabitants there.

Manila, Aug. 12.—There is reason to believe the reports recently received that the insurgents are short of ammunition, as well informed natives at Calulet say the insurgents had only 40 rounds of ammunition each and that five rounds extra were issued just before the fight.

Since the American occupation of San Fernando the rebels have torn up three miles of railroad between there and Calulet, and it is impossible to get the armored car more than two miles beyond San Fernando.

General MacArthur's troops remained the other night at Calulet. The rebels had evidently fled far beyond rifle range, for the American outposts were not disturbed and not a shot was fired during the night. At daybreak a reconnoitering party, consisting of a battalion of the Seventeenth infantry, with one field piece, started up the railroad track toward Angeles, four miles north. The party approached within 1,200 yards of the town and opened fire with the field gun. The Americans were received with a badly directed rifle fire, which the battalion of the Seventeenth returned with a few volleys.

The strength of the insurgents at Angeles not being known, the situation was reported to General MacArthur, who did not desire to send reinforcements and directed the reconnoitering party to return unless the rebels abandoned the town. Soon after the receipt of these orders it became evident that the rebels had set fire to the town and fled, leaving the place to be occupied by the Americans.

A battalion of the Twelfth infantry was also sent on a reconnoitering expedition toward the west, but up to noon no firing had been done in their direction and no word had been received from them at General MacArthur's headquarters, and it was believed that they encountered nothing.

Everything indicated that all the rebels had scattered for miles in every direction around Calulet.

Rations and Sanitation Good.

Washington, Aug. 12.—A report from Major John S. Mallory, inspector general Second division, Eighth army corps, in Philippines, for the period between Feb. 28 and June 30, said that the rations were excellent in all respects and that suitable and sufficient uniforms and other clothing were either in possession of the men or would soon be received from Manila; also that very satisfactory sanitary conditions obtained. aithough for a time previously lack of transportation facilities prevented soldiers from being properly supplied.

STREET CAR WRECKED.

Another Explosion In Cleveland-About 25 Passengers on the Car, but Nobody Hurt.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 12. - Explosives were again resorted to on the Euclid avenue line, near the corner of Case and Euclid avenues. The car was bound east. There were 25 passengers on board, but no one was injured. Several women tried to jump from the car, but were restrained by coolheaded ones. The car was so badly smashed that it was necessary to send for the wrecker.

The conductor was O. L. Smalley of St. Louis, the motorman was George Stuller of Covington, Ky. On the track, after the explosion occurred, there was found a large paper sack. There was a hole in it, indicating that the explosion was caused by the material inside. In the sack was found a quantity of material that looked like sulphur.

The neighborhood is a very aristocratic one, on one corner being the residence of John D. Rockefeller, and on the other the home of S. T. Everett.

William T. Caple, a non-union motorman on the Central avenue line of the Big Consolidated company, fired two shots at William Little, a teamster, both bullets taking effect. In return Little picked up a hatchet lying in his wagon and hurled it at Caple, striking the motorman in the head and making a frightful wound.

The latter claims that Little called him a "scab" as his car was passing the wagon. This the teamster denies. The motorman is in jail upon the charge of shooting to kill. Little was removed to a hospital. Neither man is fatally in-

Cloudburst Near Caldwell, O.

CALDWELL, O., Aug. 12.—A heavy cloudburst visited the eastern part of this (Noble) county, doing an inestimable amount of damage to corn and tobacco crops. It is feared that much stock has been drowned. The water was five feet of the Bellaire, Zanesville and Cincinnati railroad tracks at Harkin's station and through trains had been abandoned. Much of the track was known to be washed out.

Hobart's Brother Badly Hurt.

LIMA, O., Aug. 12.-C. T. Hobart, chief engineer of the Columbus, Lima and Milwaukee railroad, brother of Vice President Hobart, was probably fatally injured at Gomer, eight miles north of here. He attempted to pass between a big crane at the Watkins elevator and the railroad track when a construction train passed and caught him. His hip was crushed and he was injured internally.

Some of the Boats Smashed at Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 12.—An unusual electric and rain storm caused the Licking river to rise rapidly and the coal fleets were saved with great difficulty. As it was, the Hatfield Coal company's pump boat and two empty barges were carried away and the pump boat and one barge were torn to pieces against the Newport bridge pier.

MERCIER ON THE RACK

Must Today Prove Accusations Against Dreyfus.

MAY CLASH WITH CASIMIR PERIER.

Major Forzinetti Says London Times' Statement That Henry Was the Real Culprit Confirms His View-Conspiracy Against Republic May Be Exposed.

RENNES, France, Aug. 12.-Today General Mercier, former minister of war, and M. Casimir-Perier, former president of France, are scheduled to appear as witnesses in the Dreyfus courtmartial.

Major Forzinetti, who was governor of the Cherche Midi prison during Dreyfus' incarceration there, and who was cashiered on account of his declarations favorable to Dreyfus' attitude while in prison, in the course of an interview said in part that "General Mercier and M. Casimir-Perier (former president of

Maitres Demange and Labori, Counsel For Captain Dreyfus.

France), if time admits, will be confronted, and a most dramatic scene is inevitbale, as their declarations in certain matters differ on essential points."

The London Times' statement of the late Lieutenant Colonel Henry's treason caused considerable sensation here. The affirmination of Henry that Esterhazy was his accomplice was only a confirmation of what had already many times been stated. But what was regarded as important is the fact that The Times announced it in such categorically terms, demonstrating, according to the views of the friends of Dreyfus here, that The Times people have actually seen documents, submitted to them by more than one foreign military attache, presenting the strongest proof of Henry's guilt, and, moreover, that this announcement can only prelude the publication by The Times of the actual documents. On this point, Major Forzinetti said: "The Times' statement confirms my own view. I was convinced of Henry's complicity from the very first and always regarded him as the real culprit. All the notable Dreyfusites here are satisfied with the result of the examination of the secret dossier, which has ended. They have urged their newspaper friends in Paris to clamor for full publicity, knowing that if it be granted the military and nationalist parties would be utterly disgraced. They are convinced that the diplomatic and war officer dossier teem with forgeries. Of course their impressions are derived from the five counsel present at the examination of these precious papers. Publicity would means the pillory for General DeBoisdeffre and company They would be pelted with their own foul eggs while Captain Dreyfus would be cleared in the face of the whole world.

The military caste here is furious at the turn things are taking.

M. Jaures expects that there will be a great exposure of a conspiracy against the republic and that the high handed measures of the present government against certain generals will be more than justified by the coming revelations. The examination of the diplomatic dossier was concluded. Dreyfus, on leaving the Lyceum, looked brighter than he had previously appeared.

LONDON, Aug. 12.—The correspondent of The Times at Rennes said:

"Four days of examination have revealed the utter flimsiness of the secret dossiers. The diplomatic dossier contains proofs of Esterhazy's treason, attested by foreign agents.

The Americans were received with a badly directed rifle fire, which the battalion of the Seventeenth returned with a few volleys.

The strength of the insurgents at Angeles not being known, the situation was reported to General MacArthur, who did not desire to send reinforcements and directed the reconnoitering party to return unless the rebels abandoned the town. Soon after the receipt of these orders it became evident that the rebels had set fire to the town and fled, leaving the place to be occupied by the Americans.

A battalion of the Twelfth infantry was also sent on a reconnoitering expedition toward the west, but up to noon no firing had been done in their direction and no word had been received from them at General MacArthur's headquarters, and it was believed that they encountered nothing.

Everything indicated that all the rebels had scattered for miles in every direction around Calulet.

STREET CAR WRECKED.

Another Explosion In Cleveland-About 25 Passengers on the Car, but Nobody Hurt.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 12. - Explosives were again resorted to on the Euclid avenue line, near the corner of Case and Euclid avenues. The car was bound east. There were 25 passengers on board, but no one was injured. Several women tried to jump from the car, but were restrained by coolheaded ones. The car was so badly smashed that it was necessary to send for the wrecker.

The conductor was O. L. Smalley of St. Louis, the motorman was George Stuller of Covington, Ky. On the track, after the explosion occurred, there was found a large paper sack. There was a hole in it, indicating that the explosion was caused by the material inside. In the sack was found a quantity of material that looked like sulphur.

In return Little picked up a hatchet lying in his wagon and hurled it at Caple, striking the motorman in the head and making a frightful wound.

Major Forzinetti Says London Times' Statement That Henry Was the Real Culprit Confirms His View-Conspiracy Against Republic May Be Exposed.

RENNES, France, Aug. 12.-Today General Mercier, former minister of war, and M. Casimir-Perier, former president of France, are scheduled to appear as witnesses in the Dreyfus courtmartial.

Major Forzinetti, who was governor of the Cherche Midi prison during Dreyfus' incarceration there, and who was cashiered on account of his declarations favorable to Dreyfus' attitude while in prison, in the course of an interview said in part that "General Mercier and M. Casimir-Perier (former president of France), if time admits, will be confronted, and a most dramatic scene is inevitbale, as their declarations in certain matters differ on essential points."

The London Times' statement of the late Lieutenant Colonel Henry's treason caused considerable sensation here. The affirmination of Henry that Esterhazy was his accomplice was only a confirmation of what had already many times been stated. But what was regarded as important is the fact that The Times announced it in such categorically terms, demonstrating, according to the views of the friends of Dreyfus here, that The Times people have actually seen documents, submitted to them by more than one foreign military attache, presenting the strongest proof of Henry's guilt, and, moreover, that this announcement can only prelude the publication by The Times of the actual documents.

On this point, Major Forzinetti said: "The Times' statement confirms my own view. I was convinced of Henry's complicity from the very first and always regarded him as the real culprit. All the notable Dreyfusites here are satisfied with the result of the examination of the secret dossier, which has ended. THE DEAD NUMBER 500

Great Loss of Life In the Storm In Porto Rico.

ABOUT 300 DROWNED AT PONCE.

Claimed That the Weather Bureau Failed to Warn That Place-Root Issued an Appeal For Aid-Gen. Davis Sent Further News of Storm's Ravages.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.-A report has been received at the war department from an officer at San Juan, Porto Rico, estimating that the number of killed in the hurricane amounts to 500. The same officer says a very serious condition of affairs exists at Ponce.

PONCE, Porto Rico, Aug. 12.-During the hurricane Ponce was flooded at midnight and at least 300 persons were drowned. Two hundred bodies, mostly those of people and including many children, have been recovered.

All the buildings are damaged and hundreds have been destroyed.

The soldiers and firemen worked all night, heroically saving lives.

There is no drinking water, gas, ice or electric light.

The commissary stores at Playa were destroyed, the city is short of food and the army officers are distributing rations.

Fifteen vessels in the harbor were driven ashore.

The weather bureau predicted the storm, but it is claimed Ponce was not warned.

A mob of 1,000 threatened the alcade, Porrata Doria, but they were dispersed by the Fifth cavalry. The alcade has been deposed on account of negligence. Major Myers of the Eleventh infantry is acting as alcade in response to popular demand.

The sum of $5,000 will be needed to clean the streets. The sanitary condition is serious and assistance is needed. All the crops are totally ruined, the wires are all down and little news is obtainable from the interior. Abonita, including the barracks, has been destroyed; but no lives were lost there. Juan Diaz has been devastated. Forty-six lives were lost there. Arrayoa, Salinas and San Isabel are reported to have been totally demolished. The railroad between Ponce and Yauco has been destroyed and the military road is impassable. The river is flowing over the road for two miles. Mayaguez escaped serious injury.

Bananas are the sole food here.

The peons have gone to San Juan and its vicinity, which are comparatively uninjured.

Washington, Aug. 12.—The war department took prompt measures for the relief of the hurricane sufferers in Porto Rico. When the press dispatches and General Davis' advices made known the extent of the disaster steps were immediately taken to send supplies, and the transport McPherson was ordered put in readiness to sail from New York on Monday next. She will carry rations and other necessaries. Secretary of War Root sent the following appeal to the mayors of all cities of more than 150,000 population:

SIR-The governor general of Porto Rico confirms the report that upon the 8th inst. a hurricane swept over the island, entirely de molishing many of the towns, destroying many lives, and reducing so far as he can estimate not less than 100,000 inhabitants to the condition of absolute destitution, without homes or food. Unless immediate and effective relief is given, these unfortunate people will perish of famine.

Under these conditions, the president deems that an appeal should be made to the hu manity of the American people. It is an appeal to their patriotism also, for the inhabitants of Porto Rico have freely and gladly submitted themselves to the guardianship of the United States and have voluntarily surrendered the protection of Spain, to which they were formerly entitled, confidently relying upon more generous and benificent treatment at our hands. The highest consideration of honor and good faith unite with the promptings of humanity to require from the United State a generous response to the demand of Porto Rican distress.

This department has directed the immediate distribution of rations to the sufferers by the army in Porto Rico, so far as it is within the power of the executive, but in the absence of any appropriation we must rely largely upon private contributions.

I beg that you will call upon the publicspirited and humane people of your city to take active and immediate measures in this exigency.

The government transport McPherson will be sent directly from the port of New York to Porto Rico on Monday, the 14th inst., to carry all supplies of food which can be obtained. Further transports will be sent at future dates, of which public notice will be given. Any committee charged with the raising of funds will receive full information and advice upon communicating with this depart-

Very respectfully, ELIHU ROOT,

Secretary of War. Washington, Aug. 12.—The war department received a cablegram from General Davis, giving fuller details of the damage done in Porto Rico by the hurricane. General Davis said a famine was impending and asked authority to issue rations to the destitute. The message said:

Later reports show that the hurricane was far more severe in interior and southern part of island than here. Data for estimate of number of Porto Ricans who have lost everything is deficient, but I am forced to believe the number on the island cannot tall below 100,0.0 souls, and a famine is impending. I ask that 2,500,000 pounds of rice and beans, equal quantities of each, be immediately shipped on quantities of each, be immediately shipped on transports to Ponce. Some here. Urgent ap peals to all post commanders for food for the destitute. Am I authorized to relieve distress by food issues? Rice and beans only desired

There have been many deaths of natives b falling walls. So far only one soldier reported dangerously injured. Several towns reported entirely demolished. As yet have reportfrom only four ports. Complete destruction of all barracks at two, and at two others one company of each had barracks destroyed Troops are in canvas. No reports yet from the largest ports, Ponce and Mayaguez, but they were in the vortex of the storm. At least half of the people in Porto Rico subsist entirely on fruit and vegetables, and storm has entirely destroyed this source of supply.

BARNETT'S DECLARATION.

The Letter Refusing the Offer of the Colonelcy Received by Governor Stone.

HARRISBURG, Aug. 12. - Governor Stone received a letter from Lieutenant Colonel James E. Barnett declining to accept a commission as colonel of the Tenth Pennsylvania regiment. Colonel Barnett requests that no appintment be made and that the colonelcy be allowed to stand vacant in houor of Colonel Hawkins' memory. The governor has no desire to do anything contrary to the wishes of the officers and men, and at their suggestion he will make no appointment. When the regiment reached San Francisco on its return from the Philippines for the muster out Governor Stone telegraphed Colonel Barnett offering to appoint him Colonel Hawkins' successor.

Barnet's says in reply that he would be glad to hold a commission as colonel of the regiment and did have that ambition, "but under the circumstances," he adds, 'it seems to me, those officers who would benefit by my promotion, and to all the officers and men in this command, that the least we can do is to allow the name of Alexander L. Hawkins to be associated with the regiment during its entire time of United States service, the crowning period of its achievements, as its sole and only colonel.

BARNETT AND A MISS QUAY.

Rumor That the Lieutenant Colonel Is to Wed Soon.

Washington, Aug. 12.—Before the Spanish-American war began it was understood at Washington, Pa., Lieutenant Colonel Barnett's home, and also in this city, that the colonel's frequent visits to Beaver and the national capital were not entirely political missions, a well defined and widespread rumor having it that he had become engaged to one of Quay's daughters.

The order which sent the Tenth regiment to fight in the Philippines interfered with Barnett's love affair. It is now said his wedding will take place this fall. None of Mr. Quay's family is in Washington, and, therefore, no authoritative announcement can be obtained here.

Tenth Men Examined.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 12.—Physical examinations are on in the Tenth, and they will continue until the muster out. The condition of the men generally is found to be excellent, although there are a few cases of chronic stomach trouble, for which the unfortunates expect to receive pensions. The idea of forming football teams to play for the monument fund has resulted in the choice of players, who will meet Tuesday and form teams.

Laird Will Decline.

GREENSBURG, Pa., Aug. 12.—First Lieutenant R. D. Laird, who was recently appointed first lieutenant in the new Twenty-eighth regiment, will not accept the honor. The young soldier says he has had enough war for the present.

Hawkins' Body In a Vault.

WASHINGTON, Pa., Aug. 12.—Colonel Hawkins' body is in the Montgomery vault, where it will remain under guard until the funeral. Chaplain Hunter left for San Francisco.

Showers That Were a Blessing.

LONDON, Aug. 12. - Specials from Bombay report rain in Allahabad, Madras, the Deccan and Bengal, and showers in Bombay. The government's anxiety in regard to the possibility of a famine is therefore relieved.

REBELS SHORT OF AMMUNITION.

Calulet, Santa Rita, Bacolor and Guagua Occupied by Americans-Rebels Set Fire to Angeles and Fled-Tore Up Some of the Railroad Track.

MANILA, Aug. 12, 10:40 a. m.-Advices received from Calulet under date of Aug. 11, report that General Mac-Arthur took the Ninth regiment, a battalion of the Twenty-second and a detachment of the First artillery from Calulet to Santa Rita, near Bacolor, on Friday morning. The entrance of the troops into the town was not opposed, the insurgents fleeing as the Americans approached.

The troops had a hard march of ten miles, in some places being obliged to wade waist deep in water. Many were exhausted. The troops spent the night at Santa Rita and will proceed today.

Lieutenant Hazard of General Wheaton's staff, with five scouts from the Iowa regiment, marched up the railroad into Angeles.

A small force of rebels attacked the scouts outside the town and Lieutenant Hazard sent for reinforcements. General Wheaton's orders, however, were that the Americans should not occupy Angeles; and, a force of 600 or 700 rebels appearing, Lieutenant Hazard retired.

Manila, Aug. 12.—Reconnoitering by small parties continued. Unavailing attempts were made to get in contact with the enemy. The American troops occupy Calulet, Santa Rita, Bacolor and Guagua. No further engagements have taken place. The rains have recommenced. The wounded are being brought into Manila.

The United States transport Para, from San Francisco, via Honolulu, has arrived here.

Washington, Aug. 12.—General Otis cabled the war department as follows: MANILA, Aug. 11.

Adjutant General, Washington:

MacArthur has taken possession of Santa Rita; reconnoitered Berac, Angeles and other points. Insurgents driven north. One casualty yesterday, none today. Condition roads makes movements troops difficult, but considered necessary to open up this section of country, as it virtually gives control of province of Bataan and relieves innabitants there. OTIS.

Manila, Aug. 12.—There is reason to believe the reports recently received that the insurgents are short of ammunition, as well informed natives at Calulet say the insurgents had only 40 rounds of ammunition each and that five rounds extra were issued just before the fight.

Since the American occupation of San Fernando the rebels have torn up three miles of railroad between there and Calulet, and it is impossible to get the armored car more than two miles beyond San Fernando.

General MacArthur's troops remained the other night at Calulet. The rebels had evidently fled far beyond rifle range, for the American outposts were not disturbed and not a shot was fired during the night. At daybreak a reconnoitering party, consisting of a battalion of the Seventeenth infantry, with one field piece, started up the railroad track toward Angeles, four miles north. The party approached within 1,200 yards of the town and opened fire with the field gun. The Americans were received with a badly directed rifle fire, which the battalion of the Seventeenth returned with a few volleys.

The strength of the insurgents at Angeles not being known, the situation was reported to General MacArthur, who did not desire to send reinforcements and directed the reconnoitering party to return unless the rebels abandoned the town. Soon after the receipt of these orders it became evident that the rebels had set fire to the town and fled, leaving the place to be occupied by the Americans.

A battalion of the Twelfth infantry was also sent on a reconnoitering expedition toward the west, but up to noon no firing had been done in their direction and no word had been received from them at General MacArthur's headquarters, and it was believed that they encountered nothing.

RIVAL OF AGUINALDO.

Isabelo Artachio Tells the Story of His Escape.

WAS IMPRISONED FOR A YEAR.

His Terrible Experiences While a Prisoner of the Filipino Leader. Says Rebels Are Huddled Together In Confusion at San Francisco de Malabon and Could Easily Be Cap-

When Isabelo Artachio, the rival of Aguinaldo, came into Manila recently, among a number of Filipino prisoners, having escaped the clutches of his enemy, there was that in his face that reminded one of a hunted animal. There was a fugitive glance in his eye that was in strange contrast to the face now wreathed in smiles, for Artachio is a happy man, says Edwin Wildman, Manila correspondent of the New York Journal.

Poor Artachio! I almost felt as if I had met a long lost brother when I searched him out in the up stairs of a tiny sasteria of one Senor Cassimire, in the Calle Victoria, Intramuras. to be in Manila. Aguinaldo would have had me shot if he dared, but I was too well known to do it openly.

"They dragged me around from one convent prison to another and put over me two lieutenants and five soldiers. They fed me a little rice, see, just a handful, and gave me a penny's worth of fish a day. Perhaps they hoped to starve me. They wanted to take me into the mountains, where they would Lisbon, August 12 - [Special] - Court | have thrust a bolo into me, but my Iloccos brothers told Aguinaldo that they could guard me better-they understood Iloccos tricks better-so I was saved from starvation and death.

But the insurgents took everything I had-all my clothes and papers."

Such briefly is the story of Artachio's year's imprisonment. Aguinaldo was always jealous of Artachio-jealous of his popularity, his education and his cleverness, for Artachio had more heart than Aguinaldo. He is loved where Aguinaldo is feared. In the first revolution Artachio was a powerful chief, the head of the Iloccos province under the Spanish rule. But Artachio wants no more war.

It will be incorporated for $10,000,000, and the headquarters, it is said, will be at Albion, Ind.

The skunk pelts always command a good price, and a number of men make their living by hunting these little animals. A good black skunk hide will readily bring $2. It is just about as hard to induce a confirmed invalid, especially one suffering with weakness of the lungs, to take the first step to health. There is a lack of confidence, and perhaps a crushing experience of a former failure which depresses and discourages the sufferer

In spite of doubts and fears you will take the first step to health when you take the first dose of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It never fails to help. In ninety-eight cases out of one hundred it never fails to cure. Never mind about the symptoms. Obstinate cough, bleeding of the lungs, spitting of blood, emaciation, night-sweats, conditions which if neglected or unskillfully treated terminate in consumption, have all been perfectly and permanently cured by "Golden Medical Discovery.

RIVAL OF AGUINALDO.

Isabelo Artachio Tells the Story of His Escape.

WAS IMPRISONED FOR A YEAR.

His Terrible Experiences While a Prisoner of the Filipino Leader. Says Rebels Are Huddled Together In Confusion at San Francisco de Malabon and Could Easily Be Cap-

When Isabelo Artachio, the rival of Aguinaldo, came into Manila recently, among a number of Filipino prisoners, having escaped the clutches of his enemy, there was that in his face that reminded one of a hunted animal. There was a fugitive glance in his eye that was in strange contrast to the face now wreathed in smiles, for Artachio is a happy man, says Edwin Wildman, Manila correspondent of the New York Journal.

Poor Artachio! I almost felt as if I had met a long lost brother when I searched him out in the up stairs of a tiny sasteria of one Senor Cassimire, in the Calle Victoria, Intramuras. "Ah," he exclaimed, "I am very glad to be in Manila. They treated me very bad. Many, many times they tried to stab me, not here (pointing to his breast), but her in the back; but I am an Iloccos (province to the north) man, and my Iloccos brothers shielded me. Aguinaldo would have had me shot if he dared, but I was too well known to do it openly.

"They dragged me around from one convent prison to another and put over me two lieutenants and five soldiers. They fed me a little rice, see, just a handful, and gave me a penny's worth of fish a day. Perhaps they hoped to starve me, They wanted to take me into the mountains, where they would have thrust a bolo into me, but my Iloccos brothers told Aguinaldo that they could guard me better-they understood Iloccos tricks better-so I was saved from starvation and death.

"And now the insurgent army is all confused, and there are many rebellious among them. Many commands are deserting, and in Cavite it would be dangerous for Aguinaldo to come. They would kill him. General Baldermo is forcing them to fight. He and his generals are so bad. Oh, such shameful practices! It is terrible. then they gamble and drink and make the women dance for them. One day one of the generals came to me, for they are not all bad. He said: 'Ah, Artachio, there is some consolation in

"The army is badly disorganized. There is no communication with the north now. They are all huddled together at San Francisco de Malabon. If you go there, you will catch them all-arms, ammunition, powder factory and all the officers of the southern division. There is not much left of the revolution. Some day they will kill Aguinaldo. He is a bad man. He knows only fighting. He will stop at

He hated me because there were men who would follow me and because I wanted to control my share of the money paid to support us by the Spanish government. But I am free now. General Otis gave me my liberty, and I would like to serve the American government any way I can. "How did I escape? Well, when the American soldiers took Las Pinas, I was at Salinas. All the army was in confusion. Such briefly is the story of Artachio's I have removed my bake shop to 162 year's imprisonment. Aguinaldo was always jealous of Artachio-jealous of his popularity, his education and his cleverness, for Artachio had more heart than Aguinaldo. He is loved where Aguinaldo is feared. corn crops of Kansas and Nebraska are to do their part. Together these two great corn states will produce 575,000,000 bushels, or more than one fourth the total yield of the whole country, says the Cincinnati Commer cial Tribune. Some additional idea of the magnitude of the business may be realized when it is known that almost 17,500,000 acres will yield their harvest of maize in these two states. This is equivalent to a strip of earth one mile wide reaching once and a half around the globe. The crop will be worth but little less than $120,000,000).

SKUNK TRUST FORMED.

Indiana Combine Will Control Price of the Pelts.

According to a telegram from Laporte, Ind., to the St. Louis Republic, a "skunk trust" is the latest industrial organization that is to be foisted on a long suffering public. The new trust will be organized under the laws of New Jersey and will be backed by a syndicate of Ohio, Indiana and Illinois capitalists. It will be incorporated for $10,000,000, and the headquarters, it is said, will be at Albion, Ind.

It is proposed to combine all of the present "skunk farms" in various parts of the country and to develop the skunk raising industry to such a point that people cannot afford to turn up their noses when the skunk trust is mentioned. The skins of skunks are as valuable as they are odoriferous, and there is a constantly increasing demand for the manufacture of "sealskin" garments.

The skunks are covered with a very soft fine fur, and also by a long coarse hair, but by a tedious process the latter is taken off, leaving a fur which very much resembles the genuine sealskin. The skunk pelts always command a good price, and a number of men make their living by hunting these little animals. A good black skunk hide will readily bring $2. Striped ones are not worth quite so much, and white pelts are still less valuable.

The pelts have become so scarce in the last few years that a number of skunk farms have been started, and the rapid extinction of the fur bearing seal has caused such an increased demand for the skins that the skunk trust has been formed in order to stimulate the production of skunks. and the venture is expected to pay handsome dividends on its capital.

IT WILL CLEAN THE TYPE.

Kansas City Man Invents a Cleaner For Typewriters.

Kansas City has been the leader in a great many lines and has been the home of a large number of inventions. but there has been invented in that city during the last year an article which promises to prove of greater importance from the fact that it has proved itself most practical in use, of unquestioned utility, and what is more will be manuaftcured and placed on the market from Kansas City exclusively, says the Kansas City Times. This article is an automatic type cleaner, which will fit seven of the leading makes of typewriters and is of such proficiency that one pressure of the lever by the operator of the machine will thoroughly and satisfactorily clean every letter of the whole alphabet. Another advantage possessed by the patent is that it is capable of being attached to the machine permanently and in such position that it does not in the least interfere with the operator in the use of the typewriter and at the same time can be detached in less than a minute.

The "cleaner" is composed of four parts, all of which are detachable, and is simple and of good mechanical principles in its make up. The inventor of this machine is Mr. M. G. West, who has also given his patent a thorough trial before in any way contemplating its manufacture, but from the evidences of entire satisfaction which it gives daily he has decided definitely to place it on the market. For this purpose a company composed of some of the best business men of Kansas City is being formed to push it.

Where but a few weeks ago all was silent and in despair, money gone, workmen dismissed and the building of "The Temple of the Living God" abandoned for an uncertain time, now is the busy hum of industry, money is again plenty, the workmen are more, almost, than can be accommodated, the temple is rising rapidly and unless something unforeseen comes up will be ready for dedication at the date set, Aug. 18, says the Boston Globe.

When the condition of affairs a few weeks ago is contrasted with that of today the words of the people of Durham that a mircle is being wrought do not seem to be too strong. A few weeks ago not even the sand and gravel had been removed from the site of the big building, 160 feet in length, which is to complete the square of the temple and inclose the court on the

The chief advantage of Mr. McKinnon's device is said to be that the boat is lowered on an even keel, and the chains can be worked either from the deck of a vessel or from within the lifeboat itself, thus obviating the necessity of those lowering the boat having to remain on deck until the launching is completed and having to take their chances of getting off.

In the exhibition the other day two laborers climbed into a 2,500 pound lifeboat, swung it clear of the chocks and out and lowered it ten feet in less than five minutes. Mr. McKinnon will fit a set of his new davits on the deck of the American line steamship New York to make a test in midocean.

Among these voluntary laborers are many people of means who are by no means accustomed to the kind of work they are now doing. Many came simply to see what was being done at Beulah hill and have become so interested in Rev. Mr. Frank W. Sandford's work that they have staid to assist it. Many have also contributed freely in money.

Mr. Sandford has just received a letter from one of the leading real estate dealers in Boston, a man of education and leisure. He announces he is coming down to Beulah hill to work awhile. He says that he has not yet decided what implement he will select, whether it will be hoe, pickax, shovel, hammer or wheelbarrow, but that he will decide when he gets there. He is determined to do some work.

There are no set hours at Beulah. During the past few days there have been several occasions when the men have worked until midnight and later by the light of the moon. The laborers seem imbued by eagerness to get the good returning 15 days. Ask Ticket building done on time and are just as enthusiastic as is the leader himself For the remaining days until Aug. 18 there will be few hours at Beulah, except those of the Sabbath and prayer time, when the hammers will not be ringing and the dirt flying.

The boat is suspended upon the latter. Consequently a boat is swung outboard and down at the same time. By shifting a lever, however, the two motions can be separated, and the motion of the lowering cables can be accelerated or retarded by the same

> The chief advantage of Mr. McKinnon's device is said to be that the boat is lowered on an even keel, and the chains can be worked either from the deck of a vessel or from within the lifeboat itself, thus obviating the necessity of those lowering the boat having to remain on deck until the launching is completed and having to take their chances of getting off.

In the exhibition the other day two laborers climbed into a 2,500 pound lifeboat, swung it clear of the chocks and out and lowered it ten feet in less than five minutes. Mr. McKinnon will fit a set of his new davits on the deck of the American line steamship New York to make a test in midocean.

Graduated Electric Light.

Ralph W. Carroll of Bladinsville, Ills., has invented an incandescent bulb to graduate the light to any desired intensity. The problem of a graduated incandescence was not an easy one to solve, but this western inventor has captured the honors awaiting this particular achievement, says the Philadelphia Call. An incandescent light that will turn on like a breaking dawn and gleam or gloam to suit the mood will be a distinct success.

SHAFFER GIRLS IDENTIFIED HIM

As the ! Man Who Assisted In Holding Them Up on the Jethro Road--Rambo Tells His Story and Denies That He Was on the Jethro Road That Saturday Night.

Avery Rambo, who had a hearing yes terday afternoon before Mayor Bough, shared the same fate as Newton Croxall, was bound over in the sum of $1,000. and was taken to Lisbon last night by Marshal Johnson.

The first witnesses examined were Misses Minnie and Lida Shaffer and they told the story of how they were held up. They both identified Rambo as the man who held the horse, and said he wore a soft hat and a light brown coat. The old hat which Rambo wore when he was placed in jail was brought in and the young ladies identified it.

They were the only witnesses for the state, and when they had finished Rambo said he desired to be put on the stand. He was sworn and stated that he had come up town the evening in question with Croxall, Crawford, Thompson and two other men he didn't know. They were in the Diamond at 11 o'clock and went to Kountz's saloon. After getting a drink there they started up street and Croxall left. Later in the night he went to the Jethro spring and about 2 o'clock Croxall came down and they sat and talked awhile and parted about 5 o'clock in the morning. He denied that he was on the Jethro road that night and said when he left town Tuesday he had gone to Dan Rogers' about three miles from Petersburg. He gave a detailed statement of his trip and explained that when he got home he was told that he was wanted at the office of the mayor, and had come down to find out about it when he was arrested. He acknowledged that he had been drinking that Saturday evening.

Mary R. Evans testified to the home coming of Rambo, and said she had told him that he was wanted at the office of the mayor.

George Crawford said he was with Rambo the Saturday the robbery ochim at the corner of Sixth and West a.m.; young people's meeting at 7:15 Market streets at 10:30 o'clock. He said The Grand Army May Not Attend the En- that Croxall was not a member of the Modesty is the crowning virtue of American women. It is the trait that all mankind admires. A modest woman is the most pleasing of all created things. Because of this becoming virtue thousands of women prefer to suffer untold miseries rather than confide their troubles to a physician, and to even think of submitting to an examination is revolting. They can't get their own consent to an operation. Wine of Cardui permits sensitive women to retain their modesty. With it they can cure "temale troubles" in the quiet of their own rooms. He denied that he was on the Jethro road that night and said when he left town Tuesday he had gone to Dan Rogers' about three miles from Petersburg. He gave a detailed statement of his trip and explained that when he got home he was told that he was wanted at the office of the mayor, and had come down to find out about it when he was arrested. He acknowledged that he had been drinking that Saturday evening.

Mary R. Evans testified to the home coming of Rambo, and said she had told him that he was wanted at the office of the mayor.

WEALTH IN A MILL BEATER.

Worker In a Paper Factory Finds a Valuable Diamond Ring.

Charles McGee, an employee of the Mullen Bros.' paper mill at St. Joe, near Benton Harbor, Mich., found a fine gold ring in the mill "beater" the other evening. The ring is set with three valuable diamonds and is worth considerable money. This is not the first article of value that has been found in the same strange hiding place. Old scrap paper, contents of office gart, pastor-Preaching at 11 a. m., and wastebaskets and odd pieces of paper picked up around the streets of large cities are sent to the mill in big bales from many places, Chicago furnishing the largest proportion. Many articles of value are caught up in this waste matter and are shipped with the refuse to the mill, says the Chicago Times-

> When the bales of waste paper arrive, they are slung into a large receiver, somewhat like an ice cream freezer, called a "beater." Here they are beaten again and again until nothing but a dark white pulp remains. This material is then sifted into another resubstances, such as metal, separate of the vat.

In the evening when the mill stops running the employees make a rush for the "beater," and there is always something of value to be found. Rings, gold chains, coins of all descriptions and watch charms are common finds while silver spoons, combs and knives are not infrequently discovered. Diamonds, pearls, opals, rubies and many other valuable articles of jewelry turn up from time to time in the mi beater. One evening all the scraps gold found in the "beater" were take to a local jeweler and weighed, an their value was found to be $22.50.

THE CITY'S GROWTH.

East Liverpool is growing east, west, north and south. There is no bar to its progress. The Ohio river and the state line cannot limit it. NEVER BETTER.

What a Leading Trade Journal Says of the Conditions In East Liverpool.

The business situation among the East Liverpool potteries was never better, says the Crockery Journal. Nearly all the plants are now fully busy with orders and have small accumulations of stock. The plants generally have now a larger capacity, are better equipped with all the latest machinery and are showing a better grade of ware, with a greater variety of new, original and attractive shapes and decorations, than at any former period. There is no doubt but that there will be sufficient trade to go around and keep every pottery busy at fairly remunerative prices this fall, if they will only demand them.

The tendency toward greater firmness in prices continues, and the discounts that were secured last spring in many cases cannot be duplicated now. The pottery business is showing a healthy condition at the present time in the west, and manufacturers pretty generally are in a cheerful mood.

Don Beamer, a professional bicycle rider from Sidney, arrived in the city Thursday morning, and going to George Hale said his name was J. O. As soon as he got on the track Barney Oldfield, of Toledo, recognized him and calling him by name shook hands with him. Referee Sanford, who was determined that everything should be fair, at once disbarred Beamer, but he was permitted to ride in the half mile open professional race. The action of Beamer will disbar him from all L. A. W. races in the future, as he will be suspended.

SHAFFER GIRLS IDENTIFIED HIM

Avery Rambo, who had a hearing yesterday afternoon before Mayor Bough, shared the same fate as Newton Croxall, was bound over in the sum of $1,000. and was taken to Lisbon last night by Marshal Johnson.

The first witnesses examined were Misses Minnie and Lida Shaffer and they told the story of how they were held up. They both identified Rambo as the man who held the horse, and said he wore a soft hat and a light brown coat. The old hat which Rambo wore when he was placed in jail was brought in and the young ladies identified it.

They were the only witnesses for the state, and when they had finished Rambo said he desired to be put on the stand. He was sworn and stated that he had come up town the evening in question with Croxall, Crawford, Thompson and two other men he didn't know. They were in the Diamond at 11 o'clock and went to Kountz's saloon. After getting a drink there they started up street and Croxall left. Later in the night he went to the Jethro spring and about 2 o'clock Croxall came down and they sat and talked awhile and parted about 5 o'clock in the morning. The next they saw of their daughter was when she returned home with her clothing torn and marks on her neck.

Harry Thompson, who resides at Franklin and Hill streets, saw the girl come down the hill on the run, and she seemed to be holding her dress at the neck with one hand and trying to hold up a stocking with the other. He also saw Smith come down the hill after her, but Smith turned and went another direction before he reached him.

This closed the case of the state, and the defense presented no witnesses. Smith was sent to jail, and this morning was still trying to get bond.

How the Returns Are to Be Tabulated.

INGENIOUS DEVICE TO BE USED.

Six Hundred Wonderful Counting Machines Will Be Operated, and the Saving In Clerk Hire Will Be Over $1,000,000 - Method of Working the Machines.

It has been practically decided to make the count of the twelfth census by the Hollerith tabulating machines, according to the report of the commission of experts appointed at Washington for the purpose of comparing the work done by the various systems of tabulation offered by inventors, says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. Some 600 or more of these wonderful machines will be operated night and day in tabulating the returns from the 60,-000 enumerators. The system is at once simple and yet complex. It is complex in the great results and simple in the operation. A card is punched full of holes in one machine and then run through another. In the two movements everything relating to an individual which has been gleaned by the enumerator has been transferred to dials which are capable of recording the characteristics of similar individuals up to the number of 10,000. Thin manila cards 6% by 31/4 inches are placed in the punching machine, which has a keyboard similar in appearance to that of an enlarged typewriter. This keyboard has 12 banks of keys, with 20 keys in each bank. The characters are grouped so that the operator can easily find the single character which will denote, for instance, the single or married state of an individual. All the characters relating to the marital relations are grouped together, representing single, married, widow or widower or divorced. Other groups are arranged in a similar man-

In marking the keys the best possible abbreviations have been made, such as Dv. for divorced, Mr. for married and Sg. for single. In some cases, however, abbreviations could not be arranged for long classifications, and letters or symbols are used. As the operator becomes acquainted with these signs by constant use, it is not long before he or she becomes so familiar with the 240 characters that almost an incredible number of cards can be correctly punched in a very short time. One of the expert clerks in the last census read 1,907 cards in one day, and maintained an average of 13,356 cards for a week. This was done in a day of 61/2 hours and included nine different readings. Some of the women tabulators counted over 50,000 people per day, and the average was 47,950. From 500 to 700 cards were punched daily by each clerk, and some averaged over 1,000. The slip furnished by the enumerator is placed before the operator of the punching machine. Behind the keyboard lies the card and above it swings an instrument resembling an awl. When this is placed over the proper character and pressed down, the punch at the back makes a hole in the proper place. So expert do the operatives become that a card, which to the ordinary observer is merely a card with a number of holes scattered about, is to them the brief biography of an individual, giving his nationality, sex, age, etc.

From the punching machines these cards go to the gang punch, which is used to stamp on the card a combination of holes indicating the enumeration district in which the person to whom the card belongs resides. From three to six cards can be punched at a time in this punch, from which fact it derives its name. Should there be any doubt as to the correctness with which a card is punched it can be placed over a "reading board," which is a card of the size of the perforated card with characters similar to those on the keyboard, so the perforations in the card show exactly what characters were employed in punching it. Should a card be punched wrong, in that the sex was omitted or the age, etc., the counting machine would discover the error, because, all the proper holes not being punched, the electric circuits would not be complete, and the machine would refuse to count the card.

The tabulation machine consists of three main parts-the press, or circuit closing device; the dials, or counters, and the sorting boxes. The first consists of a hard rubber plate, containing 516 holes, or pockets, the relative positions of which correspond to those of the holes in the keyboard and gang punches. Each of these pockets is partially filled with mercury, and when the circuit is complete they are in connection with the switchboard in and turquoises. This is what is meant the rear. Above the card swings a reciprocating pin box, with pins arranged so as to fit in the center of the cups, partially filled with mercury. When this pin box is pressed down upon a punched card, fitted over with the rubber plate, those pins which find holes pass through the card and complete the circuit, while those which are not fortunate enough to find a hole are pressed backward, and, their circuits not being completed, they fail to register a count. The dials consist of cardboard, covered with celluloid, and each dial has two hands, the one counting up to 100 and the other counting the hundreds up to 1,000. By arranging the circuits the dials can be prepared so that only certain ones will register. This method is employed when, for example, it is desired to know how many white males there are in a certain district over 21 years of age. Having set the combination properly, the cards are rt through the machine. Every time the combination fits the card is registered and the lid of a sorting box flies open, into which the operator slips the card, replacing the lid with a touch of the finger. The cards remaining are passed through the machine for other groupings until all are arranged as desired.

By this ingenious device it is possible to count all the white males of foreign birth or of native birth, those born of German or other foreign born parents, the unmarried women and married men, and so on. The synthetical work is conducted by the tabulating machine and the analytical work by the sorting boxes. As the machine can be fixed so as to respond to several combinations at once, according to the arrangement of the circuit, the division of cards into groups when sent through the machine but one time is limited only by the number of the dials. For instance, they can be grouped and counted as white, male, single and American, or colored, female, married and foreign, and so on, in various combinations. It is estimated that during the last census these machines saved the government from $600,000 to $1.-000,000 in clerk hire alone, and much greater accuracy was secured than would have been possible by employing clerks alone.

Peter Watson of Chadron, Neb., is the greatest living wolf hunter today and is recognized as such by the Western Nebraska Live Stock association, which employs him by the year to ride the range and hunt the voracious grays. Watson's method of hunting, according to The Rocky Mountain News, is to sight a gray wolf with his glass, note his direction of travel, survey the topography of the country, then drop behind a hill and make a circuitous ride, flank the game and come on to him unnoticed. He then takes the lead and makes a run. His six big staghounds work together, and when they see the wolf they lead out, overtake, seize, down and kill him before they release their hold. When one takes hold, all seize and seldom get a scratch. Ordinarily a gray wolf could kill a pack of as many dogs with ease.

Watson is past 50 years of age, over 6 feet and 2 inches tall and has hunted all his life. His father, also a hunter, was killed in a wolf chase. His horse stepped in a badger hole, throwing the rider and breaking his neck. He had an uncle killed in the same way, but he will not quit the range, because, he says, he has no other work he can do. Crevice In Which Water Freezes In Summer.

On the farm of John R. Dood, in Sweden valley, Potter county, near Coudersport, Pa., has been unearthed a natural wonder. For a long time back it was noticed that ice could be found in a certain rocky crevice the year round. Recently several men proceeded to investigate by digging a shaft in the rocks, but when they were down 14 feet the atmosphere became so cold it was impossible to proceed farther, says the Philadelphia Record. No waber was found in the shaft, but the drippings down the side freeze as they trickle down the stone, and water poured down the shaft will freeze into solid ice in a few minutes.

Topic For the Week Beginning Aug. 13, "A Service of Promises." Text. John xiv, 1-14.

"I will come again and receive you unto Myself.

Jesus had eaten the Passover supper with the apostles and then had told them of His intention to leave them for awhile, and that it would be impossible for them to follow Him Three years they had followed Him, giving up all their previous business, and now the prospect of disbanding came suddenly upon them. The real facts of what was to occur-the crucifixion, resurrection, ascension, Pentecost-were all unknown to them and from the nature of the case could not even be surmised. It seemed as if the failure of all expectations was at hand, the collapse of all prospects of success in connection with we'd like to hint at something worth reviving in this One, whom they had looked upon as the "anointed" of God.

It was impossible for Jesus to make matters more plain to them. That could only be done by the development of

But He could keep their courage alive by promises which would stimulate hope, awaken anticipation, and, as they were fulfilled, would make their faith stronger. He gives four promises of deepest import and widest scope:

1 Though He was to leave them, it was only that He might go ahead and prepare a place for them. This promise is not to the 11 alone, but is for Christ's followers in all ages. He is absent. We long to see Him. But in all our yearning for His presence there is the consciousness that He is busy. He is getting the new home ready. We are to prepare the bride, the church, for the great home coming. This is still preparation time for Him and us. By and by the marriage supper. Be diligent!

2. He promises to come and receive them to Himself. This also means all God's saints. Many ask, as Peter says in his epistle, "Where is the promise of His coming?" because all the little world in the rim of their heroism shows no change. But believers look for Him. work for Him, pray for His coming, and patiently wait. Be watchful and diligent!

3. He had done great works-healed the sick, opened the eyes of the blind, cured lepers, raised the dead and taught truth regarding God, man and the world as never man understood before. Moses had done great works, but Jesus surpassed him in wonders and wisdom No man had ever spoken as He had; no He works entirely under the direction one performed such prodigies. Now He promises "greater works than these shall ye do." That means His believers in all lands and for all time. How is it and sinners become saints. If possible, it is more wonderful than the work of the Sinless One. It continues. The Holy Ghost still inspires and the disciples still proclaim the gospel, and it still saves all who believe.

4. He throws wide open the doors of the Divine treasure house. He countersigns in advance every petition of His brethren, "Whatsoever ye shall ask in My name, that will I do." The only proviso is that it is asked in His name We are coming to know the meaning of that more clearly as the years pass "In His name!" Not for self, not in pride, anger, malice; humbly, lovingly, trustingly, all faith, all hope, all charity, is bound up in it, and He keeps His fourfold promise. Work and

That Prayer Meeting.

I mean the regular midweek meeting of the church. When one is first con verted and full of ardor, how regular he is in attendance and how ready to speak and pray! What life and spirit there is to the singing and the greetings at the close! What desire and persuasion that others attend and take part! All goes so well and our spiritual life grows strong and full. Then there comes too often a period of drifting Something prevents attendance for a week or two, interest slackens with absence, and then the service is neglected. duties are forgotten or refused and the soul is adrift. How is it with yourself?

It is easy to say, "I am as good a Christian as ever." But the fact remains, if you neglect the prayer meeting instead of using it as in times past you are not as good a Christian, but weaker, less helpful to others, farther from God, less joyous, hopeful and faithful. You need the prayer meeting

The Quiet Hour. Many of those who have reached the upper heights of Christian experience have been in the habit of having a special time each day set apart for reading the Bible, meditation and prayer. Whoever would learn anything must take time and concentrate thought upon it No one can become acquainted with the things of God without taking time and giving thought to it. One may "say his prayers' through a long lifetime and yet never understand what prayer is. One may live in God's world till old age and yet never come to know God. If you have any desire after god liness and purity of heart and life, set apart some time in each day when you can shut out all the world and shut yourself in with Him. Then sit at Jesus' feet and let Him talk to you through the Bible, through the Holy Spirit Is not this thing needful in

How the Returns Are to Be Tabulated.

INGENIOUS DEVICE TO BE USED.

Bix Hundred Wonderful Counting Machines Will Be Operated, and the Saving In Clerk Hire Will Be Over $1,000,000 - Method of Working the Machines.

It has been practically decided to make the count of the twelfth census by the Hollerith tabulating machines, according to the report of the commission of experts appointed at Washington for the purpose of comparing the work done by the various systems of tabulation offered by inventors, says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. Some 600 or more of these wonderful machines will be operated night and day in tabulating the returns from the 60,-000 enumerators. The system is at once simple and yet complex. It is complex in the great results and simple in the operation. A card is punched full of holes in one machine and then run through another. In the two movements everything relating to an individual which has been gleaned by the enumerator has been transferred to dials which are capable of recording the characteristics of similar individuals up to the number of 10,000. Thin manila cards 6 by 31/4 inches are placed in the punching machine, which has a keyboard similar in appearance to that of an enlarged typewriter. This keyboard has 12 banks of keys, with 20 keys in each bank. The characters are grouped so that the operator can easily find the single character which will denote, for instance, the single or married state of an individual. All the characters relating to the marital relations are grouped together, representing single, married, widow or widower or divorced. Other groups are arranged in a similar manner.

In marking the keys the best possible abbreviations have been made, such as Dv. for divorced, Mr. for married and Sg. for single. In some cases, however, abbreviations could not be arranged for long classifications, and letters or symbols are used. As the operator becomes acquainted with these signs by constant use, it is not long before he or she becomes so familiar with the 240 characters that almost an incredible number of cards can be correctly punched in a very short time. One of the expert clerks in the last census read 1,907 cards in one day, and maintained an average of 13,356 cards for a week. This was done in a day of 61/2 hours and included nine different readings. Some of the women tabulators counted over 50,000 people per day, and the average was 47,950. From 500 to 700 cards were punched daily by each clerk, and some averaged over 1,000. The slip furnished by the enumerator is placed before the operator of the punching machine. Behind the keyboard lies the card and above it swings an instrument resembling an awl. When this is placed over the proper character and pressed down, the punch at the back makes a hole in the proper place. So expert do the operatives become that a card, which to the ordinary observer is merely a card with a number of holes scattered about, is to them the brief biography of an individual, giving his nationality, sex, age, etc.

From the punching machines these cards go to the gang punch, which is used to stamp on the card a combination of holes indicating the enumeration district in which the person to whom the card belongs resides. From three to six cards can be punched at a time in this punch, from which fact it derives its name. Should there be any doubt as to the correctness with which a card is punched it can be placed over a "reading board," which is a card of the size of the perforated card with characters similar to those on the keyboard, so the perforations in the card show exactly what characters were employed in punching it. Should a card be punched wrong, in that the sex was omitted or the age, etc., the counting machine would discover the error, because, all the proper holes not being punched, the electric circuits would not be complete, and the machine would refuse to count the card.

The tabulation machine consists of three main parts-the press, or circuit closing device; the dials, or counters, and the sorting boxes. The first consists of a hard rubber plate, containing 516 holes, or pockets, the relative positions of which correspond to those of the holes in the keyboard and gang punches. Each of these pockets is partially filled with mercury, and ly with precious gems, and even the when the circuit is complete they are in connection with the switchboard in the rear. Above the card swings a reciprocating pin box, with pins arranged so as to fit in the center of the cups, partially filled with mercury. When this pin box is pressed down upon a punched card, fitted over with the rubber plate, those pins which find plete the circuit, while those which are not fortunate enough to find a hole are pressed backward, and, their circuits not being completed, they fail to regis ter a count. The dials consist of cardboard, covered with celluloid, and each dial has two hands, the one counting up to 100 and the other counting the hundreds up to 1,000. By arranging the circuits the dials can be prepared so that only certain ones will register. This method is employed when, for example, it is desired to know how many white males there are in a certain district over 21 years of age. Having set the combination properly, the cards are rt through the machine. Every time the combination fits the card is registered and the lid of a sorting box flies open, into which the operator slips the card, replacing the lid with a touch of the finger. The cards remaining are passed through the machine for other groupings until all are arranged as desired.

By this ingenious device it is possible to count all the white males of foreign birth or of native birth, those born of German or other foreign born parents, the unmarried women and married men, and so on. The synthetical work is conducted by the tabulating machine and the analytical work by the sorting boxes. As the machine can be fixed so as to respond to several combinations at once, according to the arrangement of the circuit, the division of cards into groups when sent through the machine but one time is limited only by the number of the dials. For instance, they can be grouped and counted as white, male, single and American, or colored, female, married and foreign, and so on, in various combinations. It is estimated that during the last census these machines saved the government from $600,000 to $1,-000,000 in clerk hire alone, and much greater accuracy was secured than would have been possible by employing clerks alone.

GREATEST WOLF HUNTER.

Peter Watson Is Employed to Kill Enemies of Nebraska Cattlemen.

Peter Watson of Chadron, Neb., is the greatest living wolf hunter today and is recognized as such by the Western Nebraska Live Stock association, which employs him by the year to ride the range and hunt the voracious grays. Watson is not a trapper, but with his favorite hunting horse and pack of six huge staghounds seeks the wilds of the range for the chase. He works entirely under the direction of the stock association and is always found where the ravages of the wolves in the herds are discovered to be the worst.

Having 15 scalps to his saddle Sioux county the other day and then and sinners become saints. If possible, 3:07 p. m. responded to a call to go south 100 miles into Box Butte county, where 25 young cattle had been killed in the Ashbrook herd in 24 hours by wolves.

Watson's method of hunting, according to The Rocky Mountain News, is to sight a gray wolf with his glass, note his direction of travel, survey the topography of the country, then drop behind a hill and make a circuitous ride, flank the game and come on to him unnoticed. He then takes the lead and makes a run. His six big staghounds work together, and when they see the wolf they lead out, overtake, seize, down and kill him before they release their hold. When one takes hold, all seize and seldom get a scratch. Ordinarily a gray wolf could kill a pack of as many dogs with ease.

Watson is past 50 years of age, over 6 feet and 2 inches tall and has hunted all his life. His father, also a hunter, was killed in a wolf chase. His horse stepped in a badger hole, throwing the rider and breaking his neck. He had an uncle killed in the same way, but he will not quit the range, because, he says, he has no other work he can do. The association would hardly let him

Crevice in Which Water Freezes In Summer.

On the farm of John R. Dood, in Sweden valley, Potter county, near Coudersport, Pa., has been unearthed a natural wonder. For a long time back it was noticed that ice could be found in a certain rocky crevice the year round. Recently several men proceeded to investigate by digging a shaft in the rocks, but when they were down 14 feet the atmosphere became so cold it was impossible to proceed farther, says the Philadelphia Record. No waber was found in the shaft, but the drippings down the side freeze as they trickle down the stone, and water poured down the shaft will freeze into solid ice in a few minutes.

Topic For the Week Beginning Aug. 13, "A Service of Promises." Text. John xiv. 1-14.

"I will come again and receive you unto Myself.

Jesus had eaten the Passover supper with the apostles and then had told them of His intention to leave them for awhile, and that it would be impossible for them to follow Him Three years they had followed Him, giving up all their previous business, and now the prospect of disbanding came suddenly upon them. The real facts of what was to occur-the crucifixion, resurrection, ascension, Pentecost-were all unknown to them and from the nature of the case could not even be surmised. It seemed as if the failure of all expectations was at hand, the collapse of all prospects of success in connection with this One, whom they had looked upon as the "anointed" of God.

It was impossible for Jesus to make matters more plain to them. That could only be done by the development of events.

But He could keep their courage alive by promises which would stimulate hope, awaken anticipation, and, as they were fulfilled, would make their faith along the Atlantic Ocean. Atstronger. He gives four promises of deepest import and widest scope:

1 Though He was to leave them, it was only that He might go ahead and prepare a place for them. This promise is not to the 11 alone, but is for Christ's followers in all ages. He is absent. We long to see Him. But in all our yearning for His presence there is the to prepare the bride, the church, for the great home coming. This is still preparation time for Him and us. By and by the marriage supper. Be diligent!

2. He promises to come and receive them to Himself. This also means all God's saints. Many ask, as Peter says in his epistle, "Where is the promise land, Toledo and Fort Wayne. Full inof His coming?" because all the little formation about rates, through time of world in the rim of their heroism shows trains and the convenient manner in no change. But believers look for Him. work for Him, pray for His coming, and patiently wait. Be watchful and diligent!

3. He had done great works-healed the sick, opened the eyes of the blind, cured lepers, raised the dead and taught truth regarding God, man and the world as never man understood before. Moses had done great works, but Jesus surpassed him in wonders and wisdom No man had ever spoken as He had; no one performed such prodigies. Now He promises "greater works than these shall ve do." That means His believers it is more wonderful than the work of the Sinless One. It continues. The Holy Ghost still inspires and the disciples still proclaim the gospel, and it still saves all who believe.

4. He throws wide open the doors of the Divine treasure house. He countersigns in advance every petition of His brethren, "Whatsoever ye shall ask in My name, that will I do." The only provise is that it is asked in His name We are coming to know the meaning of that more clearly as the years pass. "In His name!" Not for self, not in pride, anger, malice; humbly, lovingly, trustingly, all faith, all hope, all charity, is bound up in it, and He keeps His fourfold promise. Work and wait.

That Prayer Meeting.

I mean the regular midweek meeting of the church. When one is first con verted and full of ardor, how regular he is in attendance and how ready to speak and pray! What life and spirit there is to the singing and the greetings at the close! What desire and persuasion that others attend and take part! All goes so well and our spiritual life grows strong and full. Then there comes too often a period of drifting Something prevents attendance for a week or two, interest slackens with absence, and then the service is neglected. duties are forgotten or refused and the soul is adrift. How is it with yourself?

It is easy to say, "I am as good a Christian as ever." But the fact remains, if you neglect the prayer meeting instead of using it as in times past you are not as good a Christian, but weaker, less helpful to others, farther from God, less joyous, hopeful and faithful. You need the prayer meeting The Quiet Hour.

Many of those who have reached the upper heights of Christian experience have been in the habit of having a special time each day set apart for reading the Bible, meditation and prayer. Whoever would learn anything must take time and concentrate thought upon it No one can become acquainted with the things of God without taking time and Capital, giving thought to it. One may "say his prayers' through a long lifetime and yet never understand what prayer is. One may live in God's world till old age and yet never come to know God. If you have any desire after godliness and purity of heart and life, set apart some time in each day when you can shut out all the world and shut yourself in with Him. Then sit at Jesus' feet and let Him talk to you through the Bible, through the Holy Spirit Is not this thing needful in your life?

How the Returns Are to Be Tabulated.

INGENIOUS DEVICE TO BE USED.

Six Hundred Wonderful Counting Machines Will Be Operated, and the Saving In Clerk Hire Will Be Over $1,000,000 - Method of Working the Machines.

It has been practically decided to make the count of the twelfth census by the Hollerith tabulating machines. according to the report of the commission of experts appointed at Washington for the purpose of comparing the work done by the various systems of tabulation offered by inventors, says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. Some 600 or more of these wonderful machines will be operated night and day in tabulating the returns from the 60,-000 enumerators. The system is at once simple and yet complex. It is complex in the great results and simple in the operation. A card is punched full of holes in one machine and then run through another. In the two movements everything relating to an individual which has been gleaned by the enumerator has been transferred to dials which are capable of recording the characteristics of similar individuals up to the number of 10,000. Thin manila cards 6% by 34 inches are placed in the punching machine, which has a keyboard similar in appearance to that of an enlarged typewriter. This keyboard has 12 banks of keys, with 20 keys in each bank. The characters are grouped so that the operator can easily find the single character which will denote, for instance, the single or married state of an individual. All the characters relating to the marital relations are grouped together, representing single, married, widow or widower or divorced. Other groups are arranged in a similar man-

In marking the keys the best possible abbreviations have been made, such as Dv. for divorced, Mr. for married and Sg. for single. In some cases, however, abbreviations could not be arranged for long classifications, and letters or symbols are used. As the operator becomes acquainted with these signs by constant use, it is not long before he or she becomes so familiar with the 240 characters that almost an incredible number of cards short time. One of the expert clerks in the last census read 1,907 cards in one day, and maintained an average of 13,356 cards for a week. This was done in a day of 61/2 hours and included nine different readings. Some of the women tabulators counted over 50,000 people per day, and the average was 47,950. From 500 to 700 cards were punched daily by each clerk, and some averaged over 1,000. The slip furnished by the enumerator is placed before the operator of the punching machine. Behind the keyboard lies the card and above it swings an instrument resembling an awl. When this is placed over the proper character and pressed down, the punch at the back makes a hole in the proper place. So expert do the operatives become that a card, which to the ordinary observer is merely a card with a number of holes scattered about, is to them the brief biography of an individual, giving his nationality, sex, age, etc.

From the punching machines these cards go to the gang punch, which is used to stamp on the card a combination of holes indicating the enumeration district in which the person to whom the card belongs resides. From three to six cards can be punched at a time in this punch, from which fact it derives its name. Should there be any doubt as to the correctness with which a card is punched it can be placed over a "reading board," which is a card of the size of the perforated card with natural wonder. For a long time back characters similar to those on the keyboard, so the perforations in the card show exactly what characters were employed in punching it. Should a card be punched wrong, in that the sex was omitted or the age, etc., the counting machine would discover the error, because, all the proper holes not being punched, the electric circuits would not be complete, and the machine would refuse to count the card.

The tabulation machine consists of three main parts-the press, or circuit | ice in a few minutes. closing device; the dials, or counters, and the sorting boxes. The first consists of a hard rubber plate, containing 516 holes, or pockets, the relative positions of which correspond to those of the holes in the keyboard and gang with gold, says the London Globe. It punches. Each of these pockets is partially filled with mercury, and when the circuit is complete they are in connection with the switchboard in the rear. Above the card swings a reciprocating pin box, with pins arranged so as to fit in the center of the cups, partially filled with mercury. When this pin box is pressed down upon a punched card, fitted over with the rubber plate, those pins which find plete the circuit, while those which are not fortunate enough to find a hole are pressed backward, and, their circuits not being completed, they fail to register a count. The dials consist of cardboard, covered with celluloid, and each dial has two hands, the one counting up to 100 and the other counting the hundreds up to 1,000. By arranging the circuits the dials can be prepared so that only certain ones will register. This method is employed when, for example, it is desired to know how many white males there are in a certain district over 21 years of age. Having set the combination properly, the cards are ru through the machine. Every time the combination fits the card is registered and the lid of a sorting box flies open, into which the operator slips the card, replacing the lid with a touch of the finger. The cards remaining are passed through the machine for other groupings until all are arranged as desired.

By this ingenious device it is possible to count all the white males of foreign birth or of native birth, those born of German or other foreign born parents, the unmarried women and married men, and so on. The synthetical work is conducted by the tabulating machine and the analytical work by the sorting boxes. As the machine can be fixed so as to respond to several combinations at once, according to the arrangement of the circuit, the division of cards into groups when sent through the machine but one time is limited only by the number of the dials. For instance, they can be grouped and counted as white, male, single and yearning for His presence there is the Adirondacks, White Mountains, Catsand foreign, and so on, in various combinations. It is estimated that during the last census these machines saved the government from $600,000 to $1.-000,000 in clerk hire alone, and much greater accuracy was secured than would have been possible by employing clerks alone.

Post Official Elliott Talks Enthusiastically of the Island.

MONEY IN FRUIT CULTIVATION

Good Chance For Energetic Young Men to Make Money In That Line. Natives Are Becoming Accustomed to American Ways-Living Is Cheap. Postal Matters Are Booming.

"I can imagine no more beautiful sight than the stars and stripes waying amid the luxurious vegetation of Porto Rico." This is what Director of Pests Elliott said recently to Acting Postmaster General Perry S. Heath in the beginning of his talk on Porto Rico. Mr. Eiliott is the director general of posts of Porto Rico and has come to Washington for the purpose of conferring with postoffice officials concerning postal matters in Porto Rico.

To a representative of the Washington Star Mr. Elliott talked enthusiastically of our new possession. He said: "The island physically is one of the most beautiful it has ever been my privilege to see. It is composed of low ranges of mountains which run east and west, hiding beautiful valleys and picturesque canyons. The soil is fertile to the peaks of the mountain tops, but under Spanish rule agriculture has been sadly neglected.

The country will produce anything that grows, and fruits of all kinds thrive to a wonderful degree. The country is full of wild oranges that have a superior flavor, and the pears and the pineapples are all just a little better than anything I know of. Porto Rico, in my estimation, is destined to become the great fruit supply country for the United States. All that is peeded is cultivation, and the people are waking up to that every day.

"I traveled all over the island, met all the alcaldes and the leading citizens and everywhere met with the most generous hospitality. The island is suffering now from depressed commercial conditions. You see, the laws have not been changed, and they have always been a hardship. The establishment of provisional courts by the United States authorities has worked much good and are a decided innova-

"The coffee planters have had a hard time this year. The coffee grown on the island has heretofore commanded an extra price in Europe, but Spain has entirely cut off this market by an exorbitant tariff. The sugar crop has been a considerable help on account of the good prices, and next year's crop will be a big one. You see, business has been languishing for years under Spanish rule, but I can see evidences of a general awakening. Take the tobacco crop, for illustration. The finest tobacco in the world is grown on the island, but Spain compelled all its producers to ship the half cured leaves to Cuba, where the cigars were manufactured. No cigars were permitted to be manufactured in Porto Rico, and this is but another evidence of how the islanders were tyrannized.

"There is an abundance of opportunity in Porto Rico for young, energetic men to make money. The people who have been there and gone away disgusted went upon the assumption that the Porto Ricans could be fooled and that they would make a big stake in a day. The islanders are a most astute race and learn about as quickly as a Yankee. The proper way to get along there is to become affiliated with the people. They are generous and hospitable and eager to help Americans. But they will not tolerate chicanery. It is not in digging gold, coal or copper that opportunities present themselves, although there are deposits of all of these on the island, but in the cultivation of fruit.

"Labor is cheap. You can get common laborers at from 25 to 30 cents a day, and they are a faithful class. Living is cheap, and you would be surprised at the variety you can get. In fact, there is everything to be had. Heretofore fresh meat has been hard to obtain, since refrigerating plants were unknown. Now they are building a big cold storage plant, and we will have ice all the time. Houses are

"Postal matters on the island are booming. From positive chaos we have developed a first rate system, which is working well, to the eminent satisfaction of the people, who marvel at the honesty of the Americans. We established a dead letter office some time ago, and almost the first letter sent us contained $11. It was directed to a man in New York, and he could not be found. The letter was opened and the sender disclosed. He was notified, and when he presented himself and receiv ed the letter and contents he looked be wildered and exclaimed in Spanish This is wonderful! Why, under Spain I would never have got even the let fer! The newspapers got hold of the story, and the result was the system was praised extensively. At San Juan. The young people of the respectable clasare striving to learn English, and many of the wealthy ones are coming to the United States to attend our schools. I impress upon every one who appeals to me for situations that we will employ none but those who speak English. The new school sys tem will shortly be working well, but nothing except English will be taught.'

MEXICO'S PRESENT STATE.

Americans Are Well Treated, and the Law Is Respected.

Mr. Samue' M. Bryan has returned from Mexico, where he has been engaged in mining for some time, to spend a few weeks in Washington. In conversation with a Washington Star reporter Mr. Bryan talked interestingly of the land of Diaz.

"Mexico is a wonderful country," he said. "I have a bonanza in my mine, and I am going to stick to it. I am often asked if Mexico is an orderly country. I will tell you that life and property are safer in Mexico than in Arizona or New Mexico, Why? It is President Diaz's government. There's a man for you. He has made Mexico fit to live in. A thief is punished swiftly and terribly in Mexico. A thief is a thief, not an embezzler or absconder or committer of a breach of trust, but plain thief, and he'd better be a murderer for his chances with the law. Americans are treated with every consideration if they obey the laws. Indeed, I believe an American has a better chance than the native. The people are so anxious to treat them right that justice will lean their way, if anything.

"I am reminded of the contrast between Mexico and American border towns by the town of Nogales, A. T. In passing through the other day we stopped for a glass of beer. They charged us $1 for four glasses of beer. In the room were seated half a dozen just such looking fellows as are pictured in dime novels-big, ugly rascals, with heavy black mustaches and evil eyes. Each man had two guns would have fitted a description in a lurid dime novel. The gambling, the dance halls, the shooting up and down mind you, was in the American side of the town. DEWEY GOT THE DONS' COAL

Cargo Was Intended For Montijo, but Fell Into Our Admiral's Hands.

With masts so tall that they had to be "housed" while passing under the Brooklyn bridge, the full rigged iron ship Kistna sailed into New York the other day after an absence of nearly three years. She lies at North Twelfth street, Brooklyn. John Travis, the first mate, told an interesting story to a reporter of the New York Press of how with coal for Admiral Montijo of the Spanish navy when news that Spain and the United States were at war was told to Captain E. W. Smith. The Kistna sailed from Cardiff with a crew of 33. To get the trade winds the ship made for the coast of Brazil. Off that coast the Port Chalmers, a tramp steamer, was spoken.

"War has been declared between Spain and the United States!" came through the megaphone aboard the Port Chalmers, and Captain Smith of the Kistna headed for the Cape of Good Hope. There he set sail for Cape Toanjer, in the strait of Sunda. Once in the Indian ocean the Kistna was pointed for Anjer, Java, where Captain Smith cabled to E. Bates & Co. of Liverpool, owners of the Kistna, asking for advice. "Put into Hongkong and wait orders," was the response, and Captain Smith obeyed.

News that Montijo's fleet had been smashed by Dewey's guns soon reached Hongkong, and soon afterward the Kistna was on her way to the Philippines. The coal intended for the Spaniards came in handy for Dewey, and much of it kept the fires in the Raleigh going on her trip from the Philippines. Stevenson Bros. are the agents in the islands for the owners of the Kistna, and the coal was turned over gladly to the Americans. The captain and crew of the Kistna cheered the American fleet in Manila bay, and after delivering her cargo to our victorious fleet the Kistna sailed for Iloilo.

Topic For the Week Beginning Aug. 13-Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

Topic.-A service of promises.-John xiv, 1-14. The preciousness, number and variety of God's promises in Christ are strikingly illustrated in this passage of Scripture. God's fidelity to His promises is also revealed, for some of them have already been fulfilled. Here are 14 ing received from heaven by 6,000 verses, the dying words of Christ to His spectators in 1890. Mayer, who filled disciples. And yet laden down with the the role of Christ, received 2,000 marks richest and most precious promises, in for 40 performances, and about the their extent embracing the end of time -yes, even the breadth of eternity. Let us study some of these invaluable promises here recorded.

1. The promise of a future home in heaven. "In My Father's house are many mansions. * * * I go to prepare a place for you * * * that where I am there ye may be also." What a precious | ter Ocean. promise we have here. Millions of dying pillows have been lightened by it and millions of broken, bereaved hearts comforted by these priceless words of Christ. No promise of Christ is more often read than this one. None has brought greater comfort and strength to His disciples amid the afflictions, bereavements, temptations and hardships

2. The promise of His second coming. "I will come again." If they had only understood Him, how the disciples would have been comforted in the midst of their sorrows, how they would have been inspired to increased zeal and idelity in His cause. Christ has gone from earth, but, most precious promise. He is coming again.

3. The promise of power, "He that believeth in Me, the works that I do, these shall be do, because I go unto My Father." Divine power is here promised. The work that Christ did the disciples were to do and even greater works. Christ was going to His Father, the source of all power, and thence He would be able to give them even greater power. This promise was fulfilled to the disciples. The power of Christ became their power. They performed miracles, as He had performed them, and even greater spiritual works were performed by them after the Holy Ghost came. By belief, by faith we can works for Christ.

4. The promise to answer prayer, "If ye shall ask anything in My Name, I will do it." Oh, the privilege and power of prayer. We may not understand the philosophy of prayer, but we can accept the promise of Christ to answer our prayers.

How precious, how priceless these promises, but they are only so to those who believe them and act upon them. Let us do so, for "He is faithful who

The stage of the new theater and the chorpodium between it and the auditorium remains open and uncovered, so that the alfresco illusion will be retained. The committee of 24 villagers elected in the spring and which selects the performers for the principal roles will probably offer Mayer the role of Christ again, but he is likely to decline it. His beard is silvery, his hair is turning white, and he is suffering from a stomach complaint. His wife was buried a few weeks ago, and the loss has much affected him. Mayor Lang, the Calaphas and stage manager of the last play, and Rendel, the erstwhile Pilate, are also widowers now.

Rendel's son, Peter, who acted the part of John and was expected later to fill the role of Christ, cannot grow a beard and will therefore again appear shall he do also, and greater works than as John. He is married to Mayer's daughter. If Mayer declines the role of Christ, Anton Lang, the son of the potter, will probably be selected for it. Nothing is, however, certain until the committeemen elect the players in the autumn. Mayor Lang will probably appear as Calaphas, and his daughter Rosa will again be seen as Mary. Old Hett, who played Peter in 1860, is now 75 years old, but is lusty and ready to take the part again. He can still swallow six great mugs of beer with gusto. Post Official Elliott Talks Enthusiastically of the Island.

MONEY IN FRUIT CULTIVATION

Good Chance For Energetic Young Men to Make Money In That Line. Natives Are Becoming Accustomed to American Ways-Living Is Cheap. Postal Matters Are Booming,

"I can imagine no more beautiful sight than the stars and stripes way ing amid the luxurious vegetation of Porto Rico." This is what Director of Posts Elliott said recently to Acting Postmaster General Perry S. Heath in the beginning of his talk on Porto Rico. Mr. Eiliott is the director general of posts of Porto Rico and has come to Washington for the purpose of conferring with postoffice officials concerning postal matters in Porto Rico.

To a representative of the Washington Star Mr. Elliott talked enthusiastically of our new possession. He said: "The island physically is one of the most beautiful it has ever been my privilege to see. It is composed of low ranges of mountains which run east and west, hiding beautiful valleys and picturesque canyons. The soil is fertile to the peaks of the mountain tops, but under Spanish rule agriculture has been sadly neglected.

The country will produce anything that grows, and fruits of all kinds thrive to a wonderful degree. The country is full of wild oranges that have a superior flavor, and the pears and the pineapples are all just a little better than anything I know of. Porto Rico, in my estimation, is destined to become the great fruit supply country for the United States. All that is needed is cultivation, and the people are waking up to that every day.

"I traveled all over the island, met all the alcaldes and the leading citizens and everywhere met with the most generous hospitality. The island is suffering now from depressed commercial conditions. You see, the laws have not been changed, and they have always been a hardship. The establishment of provisional courts by the United States authorities has worked much good and are a decided innova-

"The coffee planters have had a hard time this year. The coffee grown on the island has heretofore commanded an extra price in Europe, but Spain has entirely cut off this market by an exorbitant tariff. The sugar crop has been a considerable help on account of the good prices, and next year's crop will be a big one. You see, business has been languishing for years under Spanish rule, but I can see evidences of a general awakening. Take the tobacco crop, for illustration. The finest tobacco in the world is grown on the island, but Spain compelled all its producers to ship the half cured leaves to Cuba, where the cigars were manufactured. No cigars were permitted to be manufactured in Porto Rico, and this is but another evidence of how the islanders were tyrannized.

"There is an abundance of opportunity in Porto Rico for young, energetic men to make money. The people who have been there and gone away disgusted went upon the assumption that the Porto Ricans could be fooled and that they would make a big stake in a day. The islanders are a most astute race and learn about as quickly as a Yankee. The proper way to get along there is to become affiliated with the people. They are generous and hospitable and eager to help Americans. But they will not tolerate chicanery. It is not in digging gold, coal or copper that opportunities present themselves, although there are deposits of all of these on the island, but in the cultivation of fruit.

"Labor is cheap. You can get common laborers at from 25 to 30 cents a day, and they are a faithful class. Living is cheap, and you would be surprised at the variety you can get. In fact, there is everything to be had. Heretofore fresh meat has been hard to obtain, since refrigerating plants were unknown. Now they are building a big cold storage plant, and we will have ice all the time. Houses are

"Postal matters on the island are booming. From positive chaos we have developed a first rate system, which is working well, to the eminent satisfaction of the people, who marvel at the honesty of the Americans. We established a dead letter office some time ago, and almost the first letter sent us contained $11. It was directed to a man in New York, and he could not be found. The letter was opened and the sender disclosed. He was notified, and when he presented himself and receiv ed the letter and contents he looked be wildered and exclaimed in Spanis! This is wonderful! Why, under Spain I would never have got even the let fer." The newspapers got hold of the story, and the result was the system was praised extensively. At San Juan Mananguez and at Ponce we have a carrier system which works well.

You would be astonished to see how rapidly the people are adapting them this eventful age.

serves to our ways. They are picking up English very rapidly, and you hear spatterings of it everywhere you go The street arabs have learned to 'cuss with the proficiency of a sailor. Th young people of the respectable clasare striving to learn English, and many of the wealthy ones are coming to the United States to attend our schools. I impress upon every one who appeals to me for situations that we will employ none but those who speak English. The new school sys tem will shortly be working well, but nothing except English will be taught.'

MEXICO'S PRESENT STATE.

Americans Are Well Treated, and the Law Is Respected.

Mr. Samue' M. Bryan has returned from Mexico, where he has been engaged in mining for some time, to spend a few weeks in Washington. In reporter Mr. Bryan talked interestingly of the land of Diaz.

"Mexico is a wonderful country," he said. "I have a bonanza in my mine, and I am going to stick to it. I am often asked if Mexico is an orderly country. I will tell you that life and Arizona or New Mexico. Why? It is President Diaz's government. There's a man for you. He has made Mexico fit to live in. A thief is punished swiftly and terribly in Mexico. A thief is a thief, not an embezzler or absconder or committer of a breach of trust, but plain thief, and he'd better be a murderer for his chances with the law. Americans are treated with every consideration if they obey the laws. Indeed, I believe an American has a better chance than to treat them right that justice will lean their way, if anything.

"I am reminded of the contrast between Mexico and American border towns by the town of Nogales, A. T. In passing through the other day we stopped for a glass of beer. They charged us $1 for four glasses of beer. In the room were seated half a dozen just such looking fellows as are pictured in dime novels-big, ugly rascals, with heavy black mustaches and evil eyes. Each man had two guns and a bowie knife. The surroundings would have fitted a description in a lurid dime novel. The gambling, the dance halls, the shooting up and down the streets, all seemed taken from 'Deadwood Dick' of olden times. This, mind you, was in the American side of the town. Across the main street, which formed the border between Mexico and the United States, all was different. Law and order reigned, and the whole atmosphere was changed.

"Diaz has done wonders for Mexico. After the last revolution he gave it out that revolutions were unhealthy things, and there have been no more. The part of the state in which I am located is pretty rough. The country all | lxxxix, 1-4; cv, 42; Luke i, 69-75; seems set up on edge. But it is chuck Rom. i, 1, 2; iv, 20, 21; II Cor. i, 19, full of minerals, and the Americans will get them out."

DEWEY GOT THE DONS' COAL

Cargo Was Intended For Montijo, but Fell Into Our Admiral's Hands.

With masts so tall that they had to be "housed" while passing under the Brooklyn bridge, the full rigged iron ship Kistna sailed into New York the other day after an absence of nearly three years. She lies at North Twelfth street, Brooklyn. John Travis, the first mate, told an interesting story to a reporter of the New York Press of how the Kistna was on her way to Manila with coal for Admiral Montijo of the Spanish navy when news that Spain and the United States were at war was told to Captain E. W. Smith. The Kistna sailed from Cardiff with a crew of 33. To get the trade winds the ship made for the coast of Brazil. Off that coast the Port Chalmers, a tramp steamer, was spoken.

"War has been declared between Spain and the United States!" came through the megaphone aboard the Port Chalmers, and Captain Smith of the Kistna headed for the Cape of Good Hope. There he set sail for Cape Toanjer, in the strait of Sunda. Once in the Indian ocean the Kistna was pointed for Anjer, Java, where Captain Smith cabled to E. Bates & Co. of Liverpool, owners of the Kistna, asking for advice. "Put into Hongkong and wait orders," was the response, and Captain Smith obeyed.

News that Montijo's fleet had been smashed by Dewey's guns soon reached Hongkong, and soon afterward the Kistna was on her way to the Philippines. The coal intended for the Spaniards came in handy for Dewey, and much of it kept the fires in the Raleigh going on her trip from the Philippines. Stevenson Bros. are the agents in the islands for the owners of the Kistna, and the coal was turned over gladly to the Americans. The captain and crew of the Kistna cheered the American fleet in Manila bay, and after delivering her cargo to our victorious fleet the Kistna sailed for Iloilo.

Belmont, made 31/2 miles Mr. Belmont started from Belvoir, Mr. Vanderbilt's summer residence, to probably quite successful in gaining one which will stand, though the matter has already interested others, and efforts to beat the time will now be the order of the day in automobiling circles in Newport.

Mr. Vanderbilt's low geared French machine was used, says the Boston Herald. It is propelled by gasoline power. The matter of making a record was not premeditated and, in fact, was not suggested until the gentlemen were about to mount the machine. They were, therefore, hardly prepared for a great effort, though the record made was a creditable one. As a matter of fact, however, in France, where the type of machine that was used is made and the roads are, perhaps, somewhat superior to those here, time a little better than that made by Mr. Vanderbilt and Mr. Belmont is often obtained.

Mr. Vanderbilt guided the machine, occupying the saddle seat. Mr. Belmont had the most comfortable sitting, being merely a passenger. The route traveled was from Belvoir over the Ocean drive and through Bellevue avenue to a point which, according to the ing point. The machine was made to do its best, except around the corners, where it was necessarily slowed up to prevent it from overturning. DUN'S REVIEW OF TRADE.

New Furnaces Have Started and Iron Output Finally Satisfied the Demand-The Failures.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.-R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade issued today said in part:

After great expansion business hesitates. This year it is astonishing that the hesitation has been so slight. In one branch after another buying has halted, only to be followed by larger buying.

The ouput of iron furnaces in blast Aug. 1 was 269,032 tons weekly, 60.8 traversed are correct and Mr. Vanderper cent more than in 1892 and 27.0 per | bilt's watch can be relied upon. cent more than last year. With a decrease of 27,367 tons in unsold stocks, by O. H. P. Belmont, made 31/2 miles nearly half in charcoal iron, the apparent consumption and exports do not exceed 1,210,744 tons, which barely equals the lowest report of production Aug. 1, and other furnaces have started since that date with several more to probably quite successful in gaining follow.

The supply appears to be at least equal to the demand, although new demands for the week have covered 2,100 tons for new buildings at Chicago, with much for bridges, and 4,000 tons for eastern buildings at Pittsburg. In bar. both east and west, the mills are unable to take all orders offered, nor in plates can they take all orders any where, while in sheets the western mals are overcrowded, though the eastern demand is lighter.

The Connellsville coke output is again 192,556 tons for the week, with only 550 ovens idle, and prices are unchanged. Wool is a little less active after its great rise and inside quotations are sometimes accepted, but sales at the three chief markets have been 20,206,-690 pounds in two weeks, against 23, 499,800 in the same weeks of 1897, and 16,436,300 in the same weeks of 1892.

Wheat receipts at the west have been 8,652,579 bushels in two weeks, against 5,645,960 bushels last year, making it hard to believe the unfavorable crop estimates which still come forward from unofficial and official sources.

The exports have slackened, amounting to only 6,269,133 bushels, flour included, from Atlantic ports, against 5,-945,311 last year, and from Pacific ports 400,020 bushels, against 924,155 last year, other exports being 457,288 bushels. Corn exports were in two weeks 7,975,-599 bushels, against 4,743,766 last year, but receipts continue enormous in two weeks, 8,839,911 bushels, against 6,479,-176 last year.

Failures for the week have been 136 in the United States, against 196 last year, and 29 in Canada, against 18 last sibly better time would have been

An Automobile Makes Great Record In Newport, R. I.

William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., who is apparently Newport's most intrepid automobilist, is claiming the record for speed on the road, for Newport, at least, if the measurements of distances

Young Mr. Vanderbilt, accompanied in six minutes the other day. He and Mr. Belmont started from Belvoir, Mr. Vanderbilt's summer residence, to make a road record, and they were one which will stand, though the matter has already interested others, and efforts to beat the time will now be the order of the day in automobiling circles in Newport.

Mr. Vanderbilt's low geared French machine was used, says the Boston Herald. It is propelled by gasoline power. The matter of making a record was not premeditated and, in fact, was not suggested until the gentlemen were about to mount the machine. They were, therefore, hardly prepared for a great effort, though the record made was a creditable one. As a matter of fact, however, in France, where the type of machine that was used is made and the roads are, perhaps, somewhat superior to those here, time a little better than that made by Mr. Vanderbilt and Mr. Belmont is often ob-

Mr. Vanderbilt guided the machine, occupying the saddle seat. Mr. Belmont had the most comfortable sitting, being merely a passenger. The route traveled was from Belvoir over the Ocean drive and through Bellevue avenue to a point which, according to the city chart, is 31/2 miles from the starting point. The machine was made to do its best, except around the corners, where it was necessarily slowed up to prevent it from overturning. Though the roads were fairly good, some hills were encountered, and there was some slight interference by vehicles, or posmade.

Naturally, the run was a very exciting one for Mr. Vanderbilt and Mr. Belmont, but not less so for some of their friends, who caught a glimpse of them darting by in the cloud of dust and gravel which the machine kicked up. It is perhaps needless to say that there are some persons who dispute the record, asserting that either the machine did not make the distance or ducted by Rev. A. R. Kuldell. Great Loss of Life In the Storm In Porto Rico.

ABOUT 300 DROWNED AT PONCE.

Claimed That the Weather Bureau Failed to Warn That Place-Root Issued an Appeal For Aid-Gen. Davis Sent Further News of Storm's Ravages.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.-A report has been received at the war department from an officer at San Juan, Porto Rico, estimating that the number of killed in the hurricane amounts to 500. The same officer says a very serious condition of affairs exists at Ponce.

Ponce, Porto Rico, Aug. 12.—During the hurricane Ponce was flooded at midnight and at least 300 persons were drowned. Two hundred bodies, mostly those of people and including many children, have been recovered. All the buildings are damaged and hundreds have been destroyed. The soldiers and firemen worked all night, heroically saving lives. There is no drinking water, gas, ice or electric light. The commissary stores at Playa were destroyed, the city is short of food and the army officers are distributing rations.

Fifteen vessels in the harbor were driven ashore.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—The war department took prompt measures for the relief of the hurricane sufferers in Porto Rico. When the press dispatches and General Davis' advices made known the extent of the disaster steps were immediately taken to send supplies, and the transport McPherson was ordered put in readiness to sail from New York on Monday next. She will carry rations and other necessaries. Secretary of War Root sent the following appeal to the mayors of all cities of more than 150,000 population:

SIR-The governor general of Porto Rico confirms the report that upon the 8th inst. a hurricane swept over the island, entirely de molishing many of the towns, destroying many lives, and reducing so far as he can estimate not less than 100,000 inhabitants to the condition of absolute destitution, without homes or food. Unless immediate and effective relief is given, these unfortunate people will perish of famine.

Under these conditions, the president deems that an appeal should be made to the hu manity of the American people. It is an appeal to their patriotism also, for the inhabit ants of Porto Rico have freely and gladly sub mitted themselves to the guardianship of the United States and have voluntarily surrendered the protection of Spain, to which they were formerly entitled, confidently relying upon more generous and benificent treatment at our hands. The highest consideration of honor and good faith unite with the promptings of humanity to require from the United State a generous response to the demand of Porto Rican distress.

This department has directed the immediate distribution of rations to the sufferers by the army in Porto Rico, so far as it is within the power of the executive, but in the absence of any appropriation we must rely largely upon private contributions.

I beg that you will call upon the publicspirited and humane people of your city to take active and immediate measures in this

The government transport McPherson will be sent directly from the port of New York to Porto Rico on Monday, the 14th inst., to carry all supplies of food which can be obtained. Further transports will be sent at future dates, of which public notice will be given. Any committee charged with the raising of funds will receive full information and advice upon communicating with this depart-Very respectfully,

ELIHU ROOT, Secretary of War.

Washington, Aug. 12.—The war department received a cablegram from General Davis, giving fuller details of the damage done in Porto Rico by the hurricane. General Davis said a famine was impending and asked authority to issue rations to the destitute. The message said:

Later reports show that the hurricane was far more severe in interior and southern part of island than here. Data for estimate of number of Porto Ricans who have lost everything is deficient, but I am forced to believe the number on the island cannot Tall Delow quantities of each, be immediately shipped on transports to Ponce. Some here. Urgent ap peals to all post commanders for food for the destitute. Am I authorized to relieve distress

As yet have report from only four ports. Complete destruction of all barracks at two, and at two others one company of each had barracks destroyed Troops are in canvas. No reports yet from the largest ports, Ponce and Mayaguez, bu they were in the vortex of the storm. At least, half of the people in Porto Rico subsist en tirely on fruit and vegetables, and storm has entirely destroyed this source of supply.

BARNETT'S DECLARATION.

The Letter Refusing the Offer of the Coloneley Received by Governor Stone.

HARRISBURG, Aug. 12. - Governor Stone received a letter from Lieutenant Colonel James E. Barnett declining to accept a commission as colonel of the Tenth Pennsylvania regiment. Colonel Barnett requests that no appintment be made and that the colonelcy be allowed to stand vacant in honor of Colonel Hawkins' memory. The governor has no desire to do anything contrary to the wishes of the officers and men, and at their suggestion he will make no appointment. When the regiment reached San Francisco on its return from the Philippines for the muster out Governor Stone telegraphed Colonel Barnett offering to appoint him Colonel Hawkins' successor.

Barnet's says in reply that he would be glad to hold a commission as colonel of the regiment and did have that ambition, "but under the circumstances," he adds, 'it seems to me, those officers who would benefit by my promotion, and to all the officers and men in this command, that the least we can do is to allow the name of Alexander L. Hawkins to be associated with the regiment during its entire time of United States service, the crowning period of its achievements, as its sole and only

BARNETT AND A MISS QUAY.

Rumor That the Lieutenant Colonel Is to Wed Soon.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.-Before the Spanish-American war began it was understood at Washington, Pa., Lieutenant Colonel Barnett's home, and also in this city, that the colonel's frequent visits to Beaver and the national capital were not entirely political missions, a well defined and widespread rumor having it that he had become engaged to one of Quay's daughters.

The order which sent the Tenth regiment to fight in the Philippines interfered with Barnett's love affair. It is now said his wedding will take place this fall. None of Mr. Quay's family is in Washington, and, therefore, no authoritative announcement can be obtained here.

Tenth Men Examined.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 12.—Physical examinations are on in the Tenth, and they will continue until the muster out. The condition of the men generally is found to be excellent, although there are a few cases of chronic stomach trouble, for which the unfortunates expect to receive pensions. The idea of forming football teams to play for the monument fund has resulted in the choice of players, who will meet Tuesday and form teams.

Laird Will Decline.

GREENSBURG, Pa., Aug. 12.—First Lieutenant R. D. Laird, who was recently appointed first lieutenant in the new Twenty-eighth regiment, will not accept the honor. The young soldier says he has had enough war for the present.

REBELS SHORT OF AMMUNITION.

Calulet, Santa Rita, Bacolor and Guagua Occupied by Americans-Rebels Set Fire to Angeles and Fled-Tore Up Some of the Railroad Track.

MANILA, Aug. 12, 10:40 a. m .- Advices received from Calulet under date of Aug. 11, report that General Mac-Arthur took the Ninth regiment, a battalion of the Twenty-second and a detachment of the First artillery from Calulet to Santa Rita, near Bacolor, on Friday morning. The entrance of the troops into the town was not opposed, the insurgents fleeing as the Americans approached.

The troops had a hard march of ten miles, in some places being obliged to wade waist deep in water. Many were exhausted. The troops spent the night at Santa Rita and will proceed today.

Lieutenant Hazard of General Wheaton's staff, with five scouts from the Iowa regiment, marched up the railroad into Angeles.

A small force of rebels attacked the scouts outside the town and Lieutenant Hazard sent for reinforcements. General Wheaton's orders, however, were that the Americans should not occupy Angeles; and, a force of 600 or 700 rebels appearing, Lieutenant Hazard

Manila, Aug. 12. - Reconnoitering by small parties continued. Unavailing attempts were made to get in contact with the enemy. The American troops occupy Calulet, Santa Rita, Bacolor and Guagua. No further engagements have taken place. The rains have recommenced. The wounded are being brought into Manila.

The United States transport Para, from San Francisco, via Honolulu, has arrived here.

Washington, Aug. 12.—General Otis cabled the war department as follows: MANILA, Aug. 11.

Adjutant General, Washington:

MacArthur has taken possession of Santa Rita; reconnoitered Berac, Angeles and other points. Insurgents driven north. One casualty yesterday, none' today. Condition roads makes movements troops difficult, but considered necessary to open up this section of country, as it virtually gives control of province of Bataan and relieves innabitants there. OTIS.

Manilla, Aug. 12.—There is reason to believe the reports recently received that the insurgents are short of ammunition, as well informed natives at Calulet say the insurgents had only 40 rounds of ammunition each and that five rounds extra were issued just before the fight.

Since the American occupation of San Fernando the rebels have torn up three miles of railroad between there and Calulet, and it is impossible to get the armored car more than two miles beyond San Fernando.

General MacArthur's troops remained the other night at Calulet. The rebels had evidently fled far beyond rifle range, for the American outposts were not disturbed and not a shot was fired during the night. At daybreak a reconnoitering party, consisting of a battalion of the Seventeenth infantry, with one field piece, started up the railroad track toward Angeles, four miles north. The party approached within 1,200 yards of the town and opened fire with the field gun. The Americans were received with a badly directed rifle fire, which the battalion of the Seventeenth returned with a few volleys.

The strength of the insurgents at Angeles not being known, the situation was reported to General MacArthur, who did not desire to send reinforcements and directed the reconnoitering party to return unless the rebels abandoned the town. Soon after the receipt of these orders it became evident that the rebels had set fire to the town and fled, leaving the place to be occupied by the Americans.

A battalion of the Twelfth infantry was also sent on a reconnoitering expedition toward the west, but up to noon no firing had been done in their direction and no word had been received from them at General MacArthur's headquarters, and it was believed that they encountered nothing.

Everything indicated that all the rebels had scattered for miles in every direction around Calulet.

Rations and Sanitation Good.

Washington, Aug. 12.-A report from Major John S. Mallory, inspector general Second division, Eighth army corps, in Philippines, for the period between Feb. 28 and June 30, said that the rations were excellent in all respects and that suitable and sufficient uniforms and other clothing were either in possession of the men or would soon be received from Manila; also that very satisfactory sanitary conditions obtained. although for a time previously lack of transportation facilities prevented soldiers from being properly supplied.

STREET CAR WRECKED.

Another Explosion In Cleveland-About 25 Passengers on the Car, but Nobody Hurt.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 12. - Explosives were again resorted to on the Euclid avenue line, near the corner of Case and Euclid avenues. The car was bound east. There were 25 passengers on board, but no one was injured. Several women tried to jump from the car, but were restrained by coolheaded ones. The car was so badly smashed that it was necessary to send for the wrecker. The conductor was O. L. Smalley of St. Louis, the motorman was George Stuller of Covington, Ky. On the track, after the explosion occurred, there was found a large paper sack. There was a hole in it, indicating that the explosion was caused by the material inside. In the sack was found a quantity of material that looked like sulphur.

The neighborhood is a very aristocratic one, on one corner being the residence of John D. Rockefeller, and on the other the home of S. T. Everett.

William T. Caple, a non-union motorman on the Central avenue line of the Big Consolidated company, fired two shots at William Little, a teamster, both bullets taking effect. In return Little picked up a hatchet lying in his wagon and hurled it at Caple, striking the motorman in the head and making a frightful wound.

The latter claims that Little called him a "scab" as his car was passing the wagon. This the teamster denies. The motorman is in jail upon the charge of shooting to kill. Little was removed to a hospital. Neither man is fatally in-

Much of the track was known to be washed out.

Hobart's Brother Badly Hurt.

LIMA, O., Aug. 12.-C. T. Hobart, chief engineer of the Columbus, Lima and Milwaukee railroad, brother of Vice President Hobart, was probably fatally injured at Gomer, eight miles north of here. MERCIER ON THE RACK

Must Today Prove Accusations Against Dreyfus.

MAY CLASH WITH CASIMIR PERIER.

Major Forzinetti Says London Times' Statement That Henry Was the Real Culprit Confirms His View-Conspiracy Against Republic May Be Exposed.

Rennes, France, Aug. 12.—Today General Mercier, former minister of war, and M. Casimir-Perier, former president of France, are scheduled to appear as witnesses in the Dreyfus courtmartial.

Major Forzinetti, who was governor of the Cherche Midi prison during Dreyfus' incarceration there, and who was cashiered on account of his declarations favorable to Dreyfus' attitude while in prison, in the course of an interview said in part that "General Mercier and M. Casimir-Perier (former president of

Maitres Demange and Labori, Counsel For Captain Dreyfus.

France), if time admits, will be confronted, and a most dramatic scene is inevitbale, as their declarations in certain matters differ on essential points."

The London Times' statement of the late Lieutenant Colonel Henry's treason caused considerable sensation here. The affirmination of Henry that Esterhazy was his accomplice was only a confirmation of what had already many times been stated. But what was regarded as important is the fact that The Times announced it in such categorically terms, demonstrating, according to the views of the friends of Dreyfus here, that The Times people have actually seen documents, submitted to them by more than one foreign military attache, presenting the strongest proof of Henry's guilt, and, moreover, that this announcement can only prelude the publication by The Times of the actual documents.

On this point, Major Forzinetti said: "The Times' statement confirms my own view. I was convinced of Henry's complicity from the very first and always regarded him as the real culprit. All the notable Dreyfusites here are satisfied with the result of the examination of the secret dossier, which has ended. They have urged their newspaper friends in Paris to clamor for fuil publicity, knowing that if it be granted the military and nationalist parties would be utterly disgraced. They are convinced that the diplomatic and war officer dossier teem with forgeries. Of course their impressions are derived from the five counsel present at the examination of these precious

Publicity would means the pillory for General DeBoisdeffre and company. They would be pelted with their own foul eggs while Captain Dreyfus would be cleared in the face of the whole world.

The military caste here is furious at the turn things are taking.

M. Jaures expects that there will be a great exposure of a conspiracy against the republic and that the high handed measures of the present government against certain generals will be more than justified by the coming revelations.

The examination of the diplomatic dossier was concluded. Dreyfus, on leaving the Lyceum, looked brighter than he had previously appeared.

LONDON, Aug. 12.—The correspondent of The Times at Rennes said:

"Four days of examination have revealed the utter flimsiness of the secret dossiers. The diplomatic dossier contains proofs of Esterhazy's treason, attested by foreign agents."

RIVAL OF AGUINALDO.

of His Escape.

WAS IMPRISONED FOR A YEAR.

His Terrible Experiences While a Prisoner of the Filipino Leader. Says Rebels Are Huddled Together In Confusion at San Francisco de Malabon and Could Easily Be Cap-

When Isabelo Artachio, the rival of Aguinaldo, came into Manila recently, among a number of Filipino prisoners, having escaped the clutches of his enemy, there was that in his face that reminded one of a hunted animal. There was a fugitive glance in his eye that was in strange contrast to the face now wreathed in smiles, for Artachio is a happy man, says Edwin Wildman, Manila correspondent of the New York Journal.

Poor Artachio! I almost felt as if I had met a long lost brother when I searched him out in the up stairs of a tiny sasteria of one Senor Cassimire. in the Calle Victoria, Intramuras. "Ah," he exclaimed, "I am very glad to be in Manila. They treated me very bad. Many, many times they tried to stab me, not here (pointing to his breast), but her in the back; but I am an Iloccos (province to the north) man, and my Iloccos brothers shielded me. Aguinaldo would have had me shot if he dared, but I was too well known to do it openly.

"They dragged me around from one convent prison to another and put over me two lieutenants and five soldiers. They fed me a little rice, see, just a handful, and gave me a penny's worth of fish a day. Perhaps they hoped to starve me. They wanted to take me into the mountains, where they would have thrust a bolo into me, but my Iloccos brothers told Aguinaldo that they could guard me better-they understood Iloccos tricks better-so I was saved from starvation and death.

"And now the insurgent army is all confused, and there are many rebellious among them. Many commands are deserting, and in Cavite it would be dangerous for Aguinaldo to come. They would kill him. General Baldermo is forcing them to fight. He and his generals are so bad. Oh, such shameful practices! It is terrible. stop at nothing to extort money, and then they gamble and drink and make the women dance for them. One day one of the generals came to me, for they are not all bad. He said: 'Ah, Artachio, there is some consolation in beng in prison. You are spared witnessing the degradation of your countrymen.'

"The army is badly disorganized. There is no communication with the north now. They are all huddled together at San Francisco de Malabon. If you go there, you will catch them all-arms, ammunition, powder factory and all the officers of the southern division. There is not much left of the revolution. Some day they will kill Aguinaldo. He is a bad man. He knows only fighting. He will stop at nothing to gain his ambition. "They say he killed the old Chief Bonifacio of the first revolution, who gave him his start and taught him all he knows. Then, too, he probably had Luna assassinated. He wants to be first. There must be no one else to eclipse or rival him. He hated me because there were men who would follow me and because I wanted to control my share of the money paid to support us by the Spanish government. But I am free now. General Otis gave me my liberty, and I would like to serve the American government any way I can. "How did I escape? Well, when the American soldiers took Las Pinas, I was at Salinas. All the army was in confusion. Every one ran, deserting the town when they heard the Ameri-They are neatly printed on tough can guns. I was in prison in the convent. My guards ran away. Your men moved so fast. Then I came out, and the women and children and some of the natives were trying to escape toward the bay. I threw off my clothes and dressed as a peasant-just a shirt and white trousers, no shoes or stockings. Then, with two women, I went to the bay and walked down the beach. The American soldiers halted us, and then they took me and put me under guard with the prisoners, but when we arrived in Manila, three days later. General Otis, who knew who I was, set me at liberty. But the insurgents took everything I had-all my clothes and papers."

Such briefly is the story of Artachio's year's imprisonment. Aguinaldo was always jealous of Artachio-jealous of his popularity, his education and his eleverness, for Artachio had more heart than Aguinaldo. He is loved where Aguinaldo is feared. In the first revolution Artachio was a powerful chief, the head of the Iloccos province under the Spanish rule. But Artachio wants no more war.

A Marvelous Corn Crop.

corn crops of Kansas and Nebraska are to do their part. Together these two great corn states will produce 575,000,000 bushels, or more than onefourth the total yield of the whole country, says the Cincinnati Commer cial Tribune. Some additional idea of the magnitude of the business may be realized when it is known that almost 17,500,000 acres will yield their harvest of maize in these two states. This is equivalent to a strip of earth one mile wide reaching once and a half around the globe. The crop will be worth but little less than $120,000,000.

SKUNK TRUST FORMED.

Indiana Combine Will Control Price of the Pelts.

According to a telegram from Laporte, Ind., to the St. Louis Republic, a "skunk trust" is the latest industrial organization that is to be foisted on a long suffering public. The new trust will be organized under the laws of New Jersey and will be backed by a syndicate of Ohio, Indiana and Illinois capitalists. It will be incorporated for $10,000,000, and the headquarters, it is said, will be at Albion, Ind.

It is proposed to combine all of the present "skunk farms" in various parts of the country and to develop the skunk raising industry to such a point that people cannot afford to turn up their noses when the skunk trust is mentioned. The skins of skunks are as valuable as they are odoriferous, and there is a constantly increasing demand for the manufacture of "sealskin" garments.

The skunks are covered with a very soft fine fur, and also by a long coarse hair, but by a tedious process the latter is taken off, leaving a fur which very much resembles the genuine sealskin. The skunk pelts always command a good price, and a number of men make their living by hunting these little animals. A good black skunk hide will readily bring $2. Striped ones are not worth quite so much, and white pelts are still less

The pelts have become so scarce in the last few years that a number of skunk farms have been started, and the rapid extinction of the fur bearing seal has caused such an increased demand for the skins that the skunk trust has been formed in order to stimulate the production of skunks. and the venture is expected to pay handsome dividends on its capital.

IT WILL CLEAN THE TYPE.

Kansas City Man Invents a Cleaner For Typewriters.

Kansas City has been the leader in a great many lines and has been the home of a large number of inventions, but there has been invented in that city during the last year an article which promises to prove of greater importance from the fact that it has proved itself most practical in use, of unquestioned utility, and what is more will be manuaftcured and placed on the market from Kansas City exclusively, says the Kansas City Times This article is an automatic type cleaner, which will fit seven of the leading makes of typewriters and is of such proficiency that one pressure of the lever by the operator of the machine will thoroughly and satisfactorily clean every letter of the whole alphabet. Another advantage possessed by the patent is that it is capable of being attached to the machine permanently and in such position that it does not in the least interfere with the operator in the use of the typewriter and at the same time can be detached in less than

The "cleaner" is composed of four parts, all of which are detachable, and is simple and of good mechanical principles in its make up. The inventor of this machine is Mr. M. G. West, who has also given his patent a thorough trial before in any way contemplating its manufacture, but from the evidences of entire satisfaction which it gives daily he has decided definitely to place it on the market. For this purpose a company composed of some of the best business men of Kansas City is being formed to push it.

The Gratuitous Information Given Here Cannot Be Overestimated by Residents of East Liverpoel.

If a resident of East Liverpool is sent to a drug store by a neighbor for a preparation which that resident has tested and proved to be up to its representation, and that neighbor implicitly pins his faith to that resident's experiences, is it stretching the credulity of the reader to investigate the following particulars, or is it overtaxing his faith in medicinal preparations when he is asked to call at the W. & W. pharmacy and obtain minuter particulars touching this statement:

Mr. S. C. Hill, of Ester, Pa., carpenter, says: "For a year I suffered from pain across my back, difficulty with the kidney secretions, and was naturally anxious to procure some treatment which would check, if not radically care the trouble. RENOVATE FAIRVIEW CEMETERY

A Petition Is Being Prepared to Be Presented to the Circuit Court Asking It to Appoint a Special Constable to Act In and About Chester.

Messrs. Morgan, Holtz and McCluskey, Cleveland capitalists, were in New Cumberland on Wednesday, looking at the Chelsea China company's plant, which has been idle many months. It is said at New Cumberland they were satisfied with the plant and surroundings, that the deal was a go, and they will close same and put the plant in operation. This means employment for 200 pottery workers and a decided boom for New Cumberland .- Steubenville Gazette.

We publish the above for what it is worth. Our people here in Cumberland have heard so many stories about the Chelsea starting that new reports are received with a great deal of incredulity. -Cumberland Independent.

It will be remembered that several parties in Liverpool were negotiating for the purchase of this plant, but the deal fell through within a few days after the first conference was held.

A General Improvement.

The China, Glass and Lamps says the general pottery trade keeps up remarkably well for August and orders are improving over July, as salesmen on the road are presenting new goods to the trade. The general revival in business, the absence of strikes in manufacturing industries, and the more general employment of labor is having its effect on trade, and as the purchasing power of the people is increased, industry will necessarily be stimulated. This fact is generally recognized, and jobbers and dealers are placing more liberal orders for the fall trade.

MAINE'S GREAT CHURCH.

The thirty-third national encampment "Temple of the Living God" Is Nearing Completion.

WONDERFUL PROGRESS MADE.

Remarkable Scenes Attend Its Building at Beulah Hill, In Durham, Me., by Volunteer Laborers-Many Contribute Freely In Money to Assist Rev. Mr. Sandford's Work.

"A miracle is being wrought at Beulah hill," in Durham, Me., say the people of the surrounding country.

Where but a few weeks ago all was silent and in despair, money gone, workmen dismissed and the building of "The Temple of the Living God" abandoned for an uncertain time, now is the busy hum of industry, money is again plenty, the workmen are more, almost, than can be accommodated, the temple is rising rapidly and unless something unforeseen comes up will be ready for dedication at the date set, Aug. 18, says the Boston Globe.

When the condition of affairs a few weeks ago is contrasted with that of today the words of the people of Durham that a mircle is being wrought do not seem to be too strong. A few weeks ago not even the sand and gravel had been removed from the site of the big building, 160 feet in length, which is to complete the square of the temple and inclose the court on the

REV. AND MRS. FRANK W. SANDFORD. southern side. Today the brick foundations are completed and the lumber for the building is beginning to arrive, while the company which is sawing it promises to have it on the spot as fast as it is needed.

When it is remembered that Beulah hill, where this has been done, is a sand hill in a country town with few people and the nearest railroad several miles away, the wonder grows greater to the investigator, and howhe is compelled to admit that the reincredible.

For the last few days laborers have been pouring in upon the hill in throngs. The other day 14 arrived in one company from Chicago. The large building under the golden crown, the first building erected on the hill, is full to overflowing, dozens have been boarding out at neighboring farmhouses, and it is proposed to open the large north wing of the new temple.

over Maine and from many other states, and they include men and women and even a considerable number of boys. The women scrub and cook for the men, and the boys are made useful in many ways. Among these voluntary laborers are many people of lifeboat, swung it clear of the chocks means who are by no means accustomed to the kind of work they are now doing. Many came simply to see what was being done at Beulah hill and have become so interested in Rev. Mr. Frank W. Sandford's work that they have staid to assist it. Many have also contributed freely in money.

Mr. Sandford has just received a letter from one of the leading real estate dealers in Boston, a man of education and leisure. He announces he is coming down to Beulah hill to work awhile. He says that he has not yet decided what implement he will select, whether it will be hoe, pickax, shovel, hammer or wheelbarrow, but that he will decide when he gets there. He is determined to do some work.

There are no set hours at Beulah. During the past few days there have been several occasions when the men have worked until midnight and later by the light of the moon. The laborers seem imbued by eagerness to get the building done on time and are just as enthusiastic as is the leader himself For the remaining days until Aug. 18 there will be few hours at Beulah, except those of the Sabbath and prayer time, when the hammers will not be ringing and the dirt flying.

The chief advantage of Mr. McKinnon's device is said to be that the boat is lowered on an even keel, and the chains can be worked either from the deck of a vessel or from within the The laborers are coming from all lifeboat itself, thus obviating the necessity of those lowering the boat having to remain on deck until the launching is completed and having to take their chances of getting off.

In the exhibition the other day two laborers climbed into a 2,500 pound and out and lowered it ten feet in less than five minutes. Mr. McKinnon will fit a set of his new davits on the deck of the American line steamship New York to make a test in midocean.

Graduated Electric Light. Ralph W. Carroll of Bladinsville,

Ills., has invented an incandescent bulb to graduate the light to any desired intensity. The problem of a graduated incandescence was not an easy one to solve, but this western inventor has captured the honors awaiting this particular achievement, says the Philadelphia Call. An incandescent light that will turn on like a breaking dawn and gleam or gloam to suit the mood will be a distinct success.

NEVER BETTER.

What a Leading Trade Journal Says of the Conditions In East Liverpool.

The business situation among the East Liverpool potteries was never better, says the Crockery Journal. Nearly all the plants are now fully busy with orders and have small accumulations of stock. The plants generally have now a larger capacity, are better equipped with all the latest machinery and are showing a better grade of ware, with a greater variety of new, original and attractive shapes and decorations, than at any former period. There is no doubt but that there will be sufficient trade to go around and keep every pottery busy at fairly remunerative prices this fall, if they will only demand them.

The tendency toward greater firmness in prices continues, and the discounts that were secured last spring in many cases cannot be duplicated now. The pottery business is showing a healthy condition at the present time in the west, and manufacturers pretty generally are in a cheerful mood.

Don Beamer, a professional bicycle rider from Sidney, arrived in the city Thursday morning, and going to George Hale said his name was J. O. As soon as he got on the track Barney Oldfield, of Toledo, recognized him and calling him by name shook hands with him. Referee Sanford, who was determined that everything should be fair, at once disbarred Beamer, but he was permitted to ride in the half mile open professional race. The action of Beamer will disbar him from all L. A. W. races in the future, as he will be suspended.

SHAFFER GIRLS IDENTIFIED HIM

As the Man Who Assisted In Holding Them Up on the Jethro Road--Rambo Tells His Story and Denies That He Was on the Jethro Road That Saturday Night.

Avery Rambo, who had a hearing yesterday afternoon before Mayor Bough, shared the same fate as Newton Croxall, was bound over in the sum of $1,000. and was taken to Lisbon last night by Marshal Johnson.

The first witnesses examined were Misses Minnie and Lida Shaffer and they told the story of how they were held up. They both identified Rambo as the man who held the horse, and said he wore a soft hat and a light brown coat. The old hat which Rambo wore when he was placed in jail was brought in and the young ladies identified it.

They were the only witnesses for the state, and when they had finished Rambo said he desired to be put on the stand. He was sworn and stated that he had come up town the evening in question with Croxall, Crawford, Thompson and two other men he didn't know. They were in the Diamond at 11 o'clock and went to Kountz's saloon After getting a drink there they started up street and Croxall left. Later in the night he went to the Jethro spring and about 2 o'clock Croxall came down and they sat and talked awhile and parted about 5 o'clock in the morning. He denied that he was on the Jethro road that night and said when he left town Tuesday he had gone to Dan Rogers' about three miles from Petersburg. He gave a detailed statement of his trip and explained that when he got home he was told that he was wanted at the office of the mayor. and had come down to find out about it when he was arrested. He acknowledged that he had been drinking that Saturday evening.

Mary R. Evans testified to the home coming of Rambo, and said she had told him that he was wanted at the office of the mayor.

George Crawford said he was with Rambo the Saturday the robbery occurred, but he and Thompson had left and 8 p. m.; Sunday school at 9:45 him at the corner of Sixth and West a.m.; young people's meeting at 7:15 Market streets at 10:30 o'clock. Modesty is the crowning virtue of American women. It is the trait that all mankind admires. A modest woman is the most pleasing of all created things. Because of this becoming virtue thousands of women prefer to suffer untold miseries rather than confide their troubles to a physician, and to even think of submitting to an examination is revolting. They can't get their own consent to an operation. Wine of Cardui permits sensitive women to retain their modesty. With it they can cure "temale troubles" in the quiet of their own rooms. If special treatment is required they can write to the Advisory Department of the Chattanooga Medicine Co., and their letters will be promptly answered by women trained in the cure of

WEALTH IN A MILL BEATER.

Worker in a Paper Factory Finds a Valuable Diamond Ring.

Charles McGee, an employee of the Mullen Bros.' paper mill at St. Joe, near Benton Harbor, Mich., found a fine gold ring in the mill "beater" the other evening. The ring is set with three valuable diamonds and is worth considerable money. This is not the first article of value that has been found in the same strange hiding place. Old scrap paper, contents of office wastebaskets and odd pieces of paper picked up around the streets of large cities are sent to the mill in big bales from many places, Chicago furnishing the largest proportion. Many articles of value are caught up in this waste matter and are shipped with the refuse to the mill, says the Chicago Times-Herald.

When the bales of waste paper arrive, they are slung into a large receiver, somewhat like an ice cream freezer, called a "beater." Here they are beaten again and again until nothing but a dark white pulp remains. This material is then sifted into another receptacle, but in the sifting all heavy substances, such as metal, separate from the pulp and fall to the bottom of the vat.

In the evening when the mill stops running the employees make a rush for the "beater," and there is always something of value to be found. Rings, gold chains, coins of all descriptions and watch charms are common finds, while silver spoons, combs and knives are not infrequently discovered. Diamonds, pearls, opals, rubies and many other valuable articles of jewelry turn up from time to time in the mi beater. One evening all the scraps gold found in the "beater" were take their value was found to be $22.50.

How the Returns Are to Be Tabulated.

INGENIOUS DEVICE TO BE USED.

Six Hundred Wonderful Counting Machines Will Be Operated, and the Saving In Clerk Hire Will Be Over $1,000,000 - Method of Working the Machines.

It has been practically decided to make the count of the twelfth census by the Hollerith tabulating machines, according to the report of the commission of experts appointed at Washington for the purpose of comparing the work done by the various systems of tabulation offered by inventors, says the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. Some 600 or more of these wonderful machines will be operated night and day in tabulating the returns from the 60,-000 enumerators. The system is at once simple and yet complex. It is complex in the great results and simple in the operation. A card is punched full of holes in one machine and then run through another. In the two movements everything relating to an individual which has been gleaned by the enumerator has been transferred to dials which are capable of recording the characteristics of similar individuals up to the number of 10,000. Thin manila cards 65% by 31/4 inches are placed in the punching machine, which has a keyboard similar in appearance to that of an enlarged typewriter. This keyboard has 12 banks of keys, with 20 keys in each bank. The characters are grouped so that the operator can easily find the single character which will denote, for instance, the single or married state of an individual. All the characters relating to the marital relations are grouped together, representing single, married, widow or widower or divorced. Other groups are arranged in a similar manner. In marking the keys the best possible abbreviations have been made, such as Dv. for divorced, Mr. for married and Sg. for single. In some cases, however, abbreviations could not be arranged for long classifications, and letters or symbols are used. As the operator becomes acquainted with these signs by constant use, it is not long before he or she becomes so familiar with the 240 characters that almost an incredible number of cards can be correctly punched in a very short time. One of the expert clerks in the last census read 1,907 cards in one day, and maintained an average of 13,356 cards for a week. This was done in a day of 61/2 hours and included nine different readings. Some of the women tabulators counted over 50,000 people per day, and the average was 47,950. From 500 to 700 cards were punched daily by each clerk, and some averaged over 1,000. The slip furnished by the enumerator is placed before the operator of the punching machine. Behind the keyboard lies the card and above it swings an instrument resembling an awl. When this is placed over the proper character and pressed down, the punch at the back makes a hole in the proper place. So expert do the operatives become that a card, which to the ordinary observer is merely a card with a number of holes scattered about, is to them the brief biography of an individual, giving his nationality, sex, age, etc.

From the punching machines these cards go to the gang punch, which is used to stamp on the card a combination of holes indicating the enumeration district in which the person to whom the card belongs resides. From three to six cards can be punched at a time in this punch, from which fact it derives its name. Should there be any doubt as to the correctness with which a "reading board," which is a card of the size of the perforated card with characters similar to those on the keyboard, so the perforations in the card was omitted or the age, etc., the counting machine would discover the error, because, all the proper holes not being punched, the electric circuits would not refuse to count the card.

The tabulation machine consists of three main parts-the press, or circuit closing device; the dials, or counters, and the sorting boxes. The first consists of a hard rubber plate, containing 516 holes, or pockets, the relative positions of which correspond to those of the holes in the keyboard and gang punches. Each of these pockets is partially filled with mercury, and ly with precious gems, and even the when the circuit is complete they are in connection with the switchboard in and turquoises. This is what is meant the rear. Above the card swings a reciprocating pin box, with pins arranged so as to fit in the center of the cups, partially filled with mercury. When this pin box is pressed down upon a punched card, fitted over with plete the circuit, while those which are not fortunate enough to find a hole are pressed backward, and, their circuits not being completed, they fail to register a count. The dials consist of cardboard, covered with celluloid, and each dial has two hands, the one counting up to 100 and the other counting the hundreds up to 1,000. By arranging the circuits the dials can be prepared so that only certain ones will register. This method is employed when, for example, it is desired to know how many white males there are in a certain district over 21 years of age. Having set the combination properly, the cards are rus through the machine. Every time the combination fits the card is registered and the lid of a sorting box flies open, into which the operator slips the card, replacing the lid with a touch of the finger. The cards remaining are passed through the machine for other groupings until all are arranged as desired.

By this ingenious device it is possible to count all the white males of foreign birth or of native birth, those born of German or other foreign born parents, the unmarried women and married men, and so on. The synthetical work is conducted by the tabulating machine and the analytical work by the sorting boxes. As the machine can be fixed so as to respond to several combinations at once, according to the arrangement of the circuit, the division of cards into groups when sent through the machine but one time is limited only by the number of the dials. For instance, they can be grouped and counted as white, male, single and American, or colored, female, married and foreign, and so on, in various combinations. It is estimated that during the last census these machines saved the government from $600,000 to $1,-000,000 in clerk hire alone, and much greater accuracy was secured than would have been possible by employing clerks alone.

GREATEST WOLF HUNTER.

Peter Watson Is Employed to Kill Enemies of Nebraska Cattlemen.

Peter Watson of Chadron, Neb., is the greatest living wolf hunter today and is recognized as such by the Western Nebraska Live Stock association, which employs him by the year to ride the range and hunt the voracious grays. Watson is not a trapper, but with his favorite hunting horse and pack of six huge staghounds seeks the wilds of the range for the chase. He works entirely under the direction of the stock association and is always found where the ravages of the wolves in the herds are discovered to be the Watson's method of hunting, according to The Rocky Mountain News, is to sight a gray wolf with his glass, note his direction of travel, survey the topography of the country, then drop behind a hill and make a circuitous ride, flank the game and come on to him unnoticed. He then takes the lead and makes a run. His six big staghounds work together, and when they see the wolf they lead out, overtake, seize, down and kill him before they release their hold. When one takes hold, all seize and seldom get a scratch. Ordinarily a gray wolf could kill a pack of as many dogs with ease.

Watson is past 50 years of age, over 6 feet and 2 inches tall and has hunted all his life. His father, also a hunter, was killed in a wolf chase. His horse stepped in a badger hole, throwing the rider and breaking his neck. He had an uncle killed in the same way, but he will not quit the range, because, he says, he has no other work he can do. 1 Though He was to leave them, it was only that He might go ahead and prepare a place for them. This promise is not to the 11 alone, but is for Christ's followers in all ages. He is absent. We long to see Him. But in all our yearning for His presence there is the consciousness that He is busy. He is getting the new home ready. Moses had done great works, but Jesus surpassed him in wonders and wisdom No man had ever spoken as He had; no one performed such prodigies. 4. He throws wide open the doors of the Divine treasure house. He countersigns in advance every petition of His brethren, "Whatsoever ye shall ask in My name, that will I do." The only proviso is that it is asked in His name We are coming to know the meaning of that more clearly as the years pass. "In His name!" That Prayer Meeting.

I mean the regular midweek meeting of the church. When one is first con verted and full of ardor, how regular he is in attendance and how ready to speak and pray! What life and spirit there is to the singing and the greetings at the close! What desire and persuasion that others attend and take part! All goes so well and our spiritual life grows strong and full. Then there comes too often a period of drifting Something prevents attendance for a week or two, interest slackens with absence, and then the service is neglected. duties are forgotten or refused and the soul is adrift. It is easy to say, "I am as good a Christian as ever." But the fact remains, if you neglect the prayer meeting instead of using it as in times past you are not as good a Christian, but weaker, less helpful to others, farther from God, less joyous, hopeful and faithful. You need the prayer meeting The Quiet Hour.

Many of those who have reached the upper heights of Christian experience have been in the habit of having a special time each day set apart for reading the Bible, meditation and prayer. Whoever would learn anything must take time and concentrate thought upon it No one can become acquainted with the things of God without taking time and giving thought to it. One may "say his prayers' through a long lifetime and yet never understand what prayer is. One may live in God's world till old age and yet never come to know God. Post Official Elliott Talks Enthusiastically of the Island.

MONEY IN FRUIT CULTIVATION

Good Chance For Energetic Young Men to Make Money In That Line. Natives Are Becoming Accustomed to American Ways-Living Is Cheap Postal Matters Are Booming.

"I can imagine no more beautiful sight than the stars and stripes way ing amid the luxurious vegetation of Porto Rico." This is what Director of Posts Elliott said recently to Acting Postmaster General Perry S. Heath in the beginning of his talk on Porto Rico. Mr. Eiliott is the director general of posts of Porto Rico and has come to Washington for the purpose of conferring with postoffice officials concerning postal matters in Porto Rico.

To a representative of the Washington Star Mr. Elliott talked enthusiastically of our new possession. He said: "The island physically is one of the most beautiful it has ever been my privilege to see. It is composed of low ranges of mountains which run east and west, hiding beautiful valleys and picturesque canyons. The soil is fertile to the peaks of the mountain tops, but under Spanish rule agriculture has been sadly neglected.

"The country will produce anything that grows, and fruits of all kinds thrive to a wonderful degree. The country is full of wild oranges that have a superior flavor, and the pears and the pineapples are all just a little better than anything I know of. Porto Rico, in my estimation, is destined to become the great fruit supply country for the United States. All that is peeded is cultivation, and the people are waking up to that every day.

"I traveled all over the island, met all the alcaldes and the leading citizens and everywhere met with the most generous hospitality. The island is suffering now from depressed commercial conditions. You see, the laws have not been changed, and they have always been a hardship. The establishment of provisional courts by the United States authorities has worked much good and are a decided innova-

"The coffee planters have had a hard time this year. The coffee grown on the island has heretofore commanded an extra price in Europe, but Spain has entirely cut off this market by an exorbitant tariff. The sugar crop has been a considerable help on account of the good prices, and next year's crop will be a big one. You see, business has been languishing for years under Spanish rule, but I can see evidences of a general awakening. Take the tobacco crop, for illustration. The finest tobacco in the world is grown on the island, but Spain compelled all its producers to ship the half cured leaves to Cuba, where the cigars were manufactured. No cigars were permitted to be manufactured in Porto Rico, and this is but another evidence of how the islanders were tyrannized.

"There is an abundance of opportunity in Porto Rico for young, energetic men to make money. The people who have been there and gone away disgusted went upon the assumption that the Porto Ricans could be fooled and that they would make a big stake in a day. The islanders are a most astute race and learn about as quickly as a Yankee. The proper way to get along there is to become affiliated with the people. They are generous and hospitable and eager to help Americans. But they will not tolerate chicanery. It is not in digging gold, coal or copper that opportunities present themselves, although there are deposits of all of these on the island, but in the cultivation of fruit.

"Labor is cheap. You can get common laborers at from 25 to 30 cents a day, and they are a faithful class. Living is cheap, and you would be surprised at the variety you can get. In fact, there is everything to be had. Heretofore fresh meat has been hard to obtain, since refrigerating plants were unknown. Now they are building a big cold storage plant, and we will have ice all the time. Houses are

"Postal matters on the island are beeming. From positive chaos we have developed a first rate system, which is working well, to the eminent satisfaction of the people, who marvel at the honesty of the Americans. We established a dead letter office some time ago, and almost the first letter sent us contained $11. It was directed to a man in New York, and he could not be found. The letter was opened and the sender disclosed. He was notified, and when he presented himself and receiv ed the letter and contents he looked be wildered and exclaimed in Spanish This is wonderful! Why, under Spain I would never have got even the let fer!' The newspapers got hold of the story, and the result was the system was praised extensively. At San Juan. Mananguez and at Ponce we have a carrier system which works well.

"You would be astonished to see how rapidly the people are adapting them selves to our ways. They are picking up English very rapidly, and you hear spatterings of it everywhere you go The street arabs have learned to 'cuss with the proficiency of a sailor. The young people of the respectable clasare striving to learn English, and many of the wealthy ones are coming to the United States to attend our schools. I impress upon every one who appeals to me for situations that we will employ none but those who speak English. The new school sys tem will shortly be working well, but nothing except English will be taught.'

MEXICO'S PRESENT STATE.

Americans Are Well Treated, and the Law Is Respected.

Mr. Samue' M. Bryan has returned from Mexico, where he has been engaged in mining for some time, to spend a few weeks in Washington. In conversation with a Washington Star reporter Mr. Bryan talked interestingly of the land of Diaz.

"Mexico is a wonderful country," he said. "I have a bonanza in my mine, and I am going to stick to it. I am often asked if Mexico is an orderly country. I will tell you that life and property are safer in Mexico than in Arizona or New Mexico. Why? It is President Diaz's government. There's a man for you. He has made Mexico fit to live in. A thief is punished swiftly and terribly in Mexico. A thief is a thief, not an embezzler or absconder or committer of a breach of trust, but plain thief, and he'd better be a murderer for his chances with the law. Americans are treated with every consideration if they obey the laws. Indeed, I believe an American has a better chance than the native. The people are so anxious to treat them right that justice will lean their way, if anything.

"I am reminded of the contrast between Mexico and American border towns by the town of Nogales, A. T. In passing through the other day we stopped for a glass of beer. They charged us $1 for four glasses of beer. In the room were seated half a dozen just such looking fellows as are pictured in dime novels-big, ugly rascals, with heavy black mustaches and evil eyes. Each man had two guns and a bowie knife. The surroundings would have fitted a description in a lurid dime novel. The gambling, the dance halls, the shooting up and down the streets, all seemed taken from 'Deadwood Dick' of olden times. This, mind you, was in the American side of the town. Across the main street. which formed the border between Mexico and the United States, all was different. Law and order reigned, and the whole atmosphere was changed.

"Diaz has done wonders for Mexico. After the last revolution he gave it out that revolutions were unhealthy things, and there have been no more. The part of the state in which I am locat- Dent. vii, 9; Josh. xxiii, 14; Ps. ed is pretty rough. The country all | lxxxix, 1-4; cv, 42; Luke i, 69-75; | seems set up on edge. DEWEY GOT THE DONS' COAL

Cargo Was Intended For Montijo, but Fell Into Our Admiral's Hands.

With masts so tall that they had to be "housed" while passing under the Brooklyn bridge, the full rigged iron ship Kistna sailed into New York the other day after an absence of nearly three years. She lies at North Twelfth street, Brooklyn. John Travis, the first mate, told on interesting story to a reporter of the New York Press of how the Kistna was on her way to Manila with coal for Admiral Montijo of the Spanish navy when news that Spain and the United States were at war was told to Captain E. W. Smith. The Kistna sailed from Cardiff with a crew of 33. To get the trade winds the ship made for the coast of Brazil. Off that coast the Port Chalmers, a tramp steamer, was spoken.

"War has been declared between Spain and the United States!" came through the megaphone aboard the Port Chalmers, and Captain Smith of the Kistna headed for the Cape of Good Hope. There he set sail for Cape Toanjer, in the strait of Sunda. Once in the Indian ocean the Kistna was pointed for Anjer, Java, where Captain Smith cabled to E. Bates & Co. of Liverpool, owners of the Kistna, asking for advice. "Put into Hongkong and wait orders," was the response, and Captain Smith obeyed.

News that Montijo's fleet had been smashed by Dewey's guns soon reached Hongkong, and soon afterward the Kistna was on her way to the Philippines. The coal intended for the Spanlards came in handy for Dewey, and much of it kept the fires in the Raleigh going on her trip from the Philippines. Stevenson Bros. are the agents in the islands for the owners of the Kistna, and the coal was turned over gladly to the Americans. The captain and crew of the Kistna cheered the American fleet in Manila bay, and after delivering her cargo to our victorious fleet the Kistna sailed for Iloilo.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning Aug. 13-Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

Topic.-A service of promises.-John xiv, 1-14. The preciousness, number and variety of God's promises in Christ are strikingly illustrated in this passage of Scripture. God's fidelity to His promises is also revealed, for some of them have already been fulfilled. Here are 14 verses, the dying words of Christ to His disciples. And yet laden down with the richest and most precious promises, in their extent embracing the end of time -yes, even the breadth of eternity. Let us study some of these invaluable promises here recorded.

1. The promise of a future home in heaven. "In My Father's house are many mansions. * * * I go to prepare a place for you * * * that where I am remains on hand, says the Chicago Inthere ye may be also." What a precious promise we have here. Millions of dying pillows have been lightened by it and millions of broken, bereaved hearts comforted by these priceless words of Christ. No promise of Christ is more often read than this one. None has brought greater comfort and strength to His disciples amid the afflictions, bereavements, temptations and bardships

2. The promise of His second coming. "I will come again." If they had only understood Him, how the disciples would have been comforted in the midst of their sorrows, how they would have been inspired to increased zeal and fidelity in His cause. Christ has gone from earth, but, most precious promise, He is coming again.

3. The promise of power, "He that believeth in Me. the works that I do. shall he do also, and greater works than these shall be do, because I go unto My Father." Divine power is here promised. The work that Christ did the disciples were to do and even greater works. Christ was going to His Father, the source of all power, and thence He would be able to give them even greater power. This promise was fulfilled to the disciples. The power of Christ became their power. They performed miracles, as He had performed them, and even greater spiritual works were performed by them after the Holy Ghost came. By belief, by faith we can possess this power to do wonderful works for Christ.

4. The promise to answer prayer, "If ye shall ask anything in My Name, I will do it." Oh, the privilege and power of prayer. We may not understand the philosophy of prayer, but we can accept the promise of Christ to answer our prayers.

How precious, how priceless these promises, but they are only so to those who believe them and act upon them. Let us do so, for "He is faithful who hath promised.'

No Standing Still.

Growth is normal on United States soil. and necessary. So it is with a Christian. He must grow; there is no standing still for the child of God. Each new day should find him stronger and wiser serve the Master, and wiser in knowing his will and performing his work -William T. Ellis.

Forgetfulness of Self.

A devout woman once wrote thus "In my own family I try to be as little in the way as possible, satisfied with everything, and never to believe for a moment that any one means unkindly toward me. If people are friendly and kind to me, I enjoy it; if they neglect me or leave me, I am always happy alone. It all tends to my one aim-forgetfulness of self in order to please God. WILL BUILD A NEW THEATER.

Oberammergau to Have an Iron One For Next Passion Play.

The Oberammergau villagers have spent a portion of the 700,000 marks received for seats at the last passion play on the construction of an iron theater in order that in future there may be no recurrence of the drenching received from heaven by 6,000 spectators in 1890. Mayer, who filled the role of Christ, received 2,000 marks for 40 performances, and about the same sum was paid to the leader of the chorus. The smallest amounts were paid to the children, who obtained 40 marks each. In all 240,000 marks were paid for the performers' services, so that, even after meeting the cost of the new edifice, a considerable balance ter Ocean.

The stage of the new theater and the chorpodium between it and the auditorium remains open and uncovered, so that the alfresco illusion will be retained. The committee of 24 villagers elected in the spring and which selects the performers for the principal roles will probably offer Mayer the role of Christ again, but he is likely to decline it. His beard is silvery, his hair is turning white, and he is suffering from a stomach complaint. His wife was buried a few weeks ago, and the loss has much affected him. Mayor Lang, the Calaphas and stage manager of the last play, and Rendel, the erstwhile Pilate, are also widowers now.

Rendel's son, Peter, who acted the part of John and was expected later to fill the role of Christ, cannot grow a beard and will therefore again appear as John. He is married to Mayer's daughter. If Mayer declines the role of Christ, Anton Lang, the son of the potter, will probably be selected for it. Nothing is, however, certain until the committeemen elect the players in the autumn. Mayor Lang will probably appear as Calaphas, and his daughter Rosa will again be seen as Mary. Old Hett, who played Peter in 1860, is now 75 years old, but is lusty and ready to take the part again. He can still swallow six great mugs of beer with gusto. Mayer's son has grown a beard and long hair and bears a strong likeness to his father's former appear

DUN'S REVIEW OF TRADE.

New Furnaces Have Started and Iron Output Finally Satisfied the Demand-The Failures.

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.-R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade issued today said in part:

After great expansion business hesitates. This year it is astonishing that the hesitation has been so slight. In one branch after another buying has halted, only to be followed by larger

The ouput of iron furnaces in blast Aug. 1 was 269,032 tons weekly, 60.8 per cent more than in 1892 and 27.0 per cent more than last year. With a decrease of 27,367 tons in unsold stocks, nearly half in charcoal iron, the apparent consumption and exports do not exceed 1,210,744 tons, which barely equals the lowest report of production Aug. 1, and other furnaces have started since that date with several more to follow.

The supply appears to be at least equal to the demand, although new demands for the week have covered 2,100 tons for new buildings at Chicago, with much for bridges, and 4,000 tons for eastern buildings at Pittsburg. In bar, both east and west, the mills are unable to take all orders offered, nor in plates can they take all orders any where, while in sheets the western mals are overcrowded, though the eastern demand is

The Connellsville coke output is again 192,556 tons for the week, with only 550 ovens idle, and prices are unchanged.

Wool is a little less active after its great rise and inside quotations are sometimes accepted, but sales at the three chief markets have been 20,206,-690 pounds in two weeks, against 23, 499,800 in the same weeks of 1897, and 16,436,300 in the same weeks of 1892.

Wheat receipts at the west have been 8,652,579 bushels in two weeks, against 5,645,960 bushels last year, making it hard to believe the unfavorable crop estimates which still come forward from unofficial and official sources.

The exports have slackened, amounting to only 6,269,133 bushels, flour included, from Atlantic ports, against 5, 945,311 last year, and from Pacific ports 400,020 bushels, against 924,155 last year, other exports being 457,288 bushels. Corn exports were in two weeks 7,975,-599 bushels, against 4,743,766 last year, but receipts continue enormous in two weeks, 8,839,911 bushels, against 6,479,-176 last year.

Failures for the week have been 136 in the United States, against 196 last year, and 29 in Canada, against 18 last

How to Make a Fountain Pen. If you wish to make a fountain pen, take two ordinary steel pens of the same pattern and insert them in the common holder. The inner pen will be the writing pen. Between this and the outer pen will be held a supply of ink when they are once dipped into the inkstand that will last to write several pages of manuscript. It is not necessary that the points of the two pens should be very near together, but if the flow of ink is not rapid enough the points may be brought nearer by a bit of thread or minute rubber band.

AT EXPRESS TRAIN SPEED.

An Automobile Makes Great Record In Newport, R. I.

William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., who is apparently Newport's most intrepid automobilist, is claiming the record for speed on the road, for Newport, at least, if the measurements of distances traversed are correct and Mr. Vanderbilt's watch can be relied upon.

Young Mr. Vanderbilt, accompanied by O. H. P. Belmont, made 31/2 miles in six minutes the other day. He and Mr. Belmont started from Belvoir, Mr. Vanderbilt's summer residence, to make a road record, and they were probably quite successful in gaining one which will stand, though the matter has already interested others, and efforts to beat the time will now be the order of the day in automobiling circles in Newport.

Mr. Vanderbilt's low geared French machine was used, says the Boston Herald. It is propelled by gasoline power. The matter of making a record was not premeditated and, in fact, was not suggested until the gentlemen were about to mount the machine. They were, therefore, hardly prepared for a great effort, though the record made was a creditable one. As a matter of fact, however, in France, where the type of machine that was used is made and the roads are, perhaps, somewhat superior to those here, time a little better than that made by Mr. Vanderbilt and Mr. Belmont is often ob-

Mr. Vanderbilt guided the machine, occupying the saddle seat. Mr. Belmont had the most comfortable sitting, being merely a passenger. The route traveled was from Belvoir over the Ocean drive and through Bellevue avenue to a point which, according to the city chart, is 31/2 miles from the starting point. The machine was made to do its best, except around the corners, where it was necessarily slowed up to prevent it from overturning. Though the roads were fairly good, some hills were encountered, and there was some slight interference by vehicles, or possibly better time would have been

Naturally, the run was a very exciting one for Mr. Vanderbilt and Mr. Belmont, but not less so for some of them darting by in the cloud of dust and gravel which the machine kicked up. It is perhaps needless to say that there are some persons who dispute the record, asserting that either the machine did not make the distance or ducted by Rev. A. R. Kuldell. Presi- that there was an error in the timing of the run. This may induce Mr. Vantreasurer's report was read, and showed derbilt to make another attempt, though probably without Mr. Belmont, who, it is said, does not care to repeat the experience.
